HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

WEDNESDAY, March 9, 1921.

The House met at 11 o'clock A. M.

The SPEAKER (Robert S. Spangler) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. W. H. Feldmann, offered the following prayer:

O Almighty God, we lay before Thee this morning our petitions in behalf of the thousands upon thousands of children who have gone to the schools, their first great American birthright, in order that they may prepare themselves for life. Grant that these places may continue to be cradles of liberty and shrines of devotion. May it be indeed our first line of defense against every evil that shall attack the republic, and may they learn so that they shall have more than book knowledge; may it indeed be schooling that shall prepare them for life.

May the ofttimes despised school teacher, who is never considered in his true light, perhaps, have at least the joy to know that he shall help to make a guarantee for the future that this land may be safe in the days to come. To this end, we beseech Thee, keep it free from that pernicious political doctrine. May there be taught there true liberty, and may that spirit of fraternity which shall be bred there be of great service to the state in the years to come. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 451, as follows:

An Act providing for the transfer of convicts from the Eastern Penitentiary to the Western Penitentiary and from the Western Penitentiary to the Eastern Penitentiary and their imprisonment in the Penitentiary to which transferred imposing the cost of the maintenance of convicts so transferred upon the counties in which they were convicted directing that certain notice of such transfer of a convict be given and making appropriations

Whereas the conditions prevailing or from time to time arising in the Eastern Penitentiary at Philadelphia and the Western Penitentiary at Pittsburgh are such that the administration of these Institutions would be improved and the welfare of the convicts imprisoned therein promoted by permitting the transfer of such convicts from one Penitentiary to the other therefore

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the Board of Inspectors of the Eastern Penitentiary with the approval of the Board of Inspectors of the Western Penitentiary is hereby authorized and empowered to transfer any convicts imprisoned at any time in the Eastern Penitentiary from the Eastern Penitentiary to the Western Penitentiary and the Board of Inspectors of the Western Penitentiary with the approval of the Board of Inspectors of the Eastern Penitentiary is hereby authorized and empowered to transfer any convicts imprisoned at any time in the Western Penitentiary from the Western Penitentiary to the Eastern Penitentiary and any convict so transferred shall serve out the unexpired term of his or her sentence in the Penitentiary to which transferred in accordance with the laws in force with reference to the punishment of persons convicted of crime and sentenced to the State penitentiaries and as though such convict had been duly committed originally to the Penitentiary to which transferred under the provisions of this act and had already served there for such time as had been served in the Penitentiary from which transferred The transfer of any convicts made pursuant to the provisions of this act shall be under the direction of the Inspectors of both said Penitentiaries

Any convict transferred from one of said Penitentiaries to the other under the provisions of this act may be transferred back to the Penitentiary from which transferred in accordance with and subject to the provisions hereof

Section 2 When any convict is transferred under the provisions of this act from one of the said Penitentiaries to the other all of the records with the Penitentiary from which the convict is transferred relating to such convict including all the information concerning such convict that may have been furnished to the Warden of the Penitentiary by the Clerk of the Court which committed the convict to the Penitentiary or a true and full copy thereof duly certified by the Warden of the Penitentiary shall at the time of the transfer of the convict be transmitted by the Warden of the Penitentiary from which the convict is transferred to the Warden of the Penitentiary to which the convict is transferred and have the same force and effect in the Penitentiary to which the convict is transferred as like records and information relating to such convict would have if the convict had been originally committed thereto such transferred convict to receive the full credit in all respects to which he or she may be entitled on account of such record and information under the parole and other laws relating to the imprisonment of persons in the State Penitentiaries

Section 3 The expenses of the keeping of any convict transferred under the provisions of this act in the Penitentiary to which transferred shall continue to be borne by the county in which such convict was convicted and the same paid to the Inspectors of that Penitentiary in like manner as such county had borne and paid the expenses of keeping such convict in the Penitentiary from which transferred and as provided by law for the payment of the expenses of keeping convicts in the Eastern and Western Penitentiaries and the Inspectors of the Penitentiary to which a convict is transferred shall accordingly render the account of such expenses to the County Commissioners of the county in which the convict was convicted

It shall be the duty of the Warden of the Penitentiary from which any convict is transferred under the provisions of this act immediately upon such transfer to give notice in writing of the transfer to the County Commissioners of the County in which the convict was convicted and to the Clerk of the Court which sentenced the convict who shall enter and file the same of record

Section 4 The sum of ten thousand ($10,000) dollars is hereby appropriated to the Eastern Penitentiary and the sum of four thousand ($4,000) dollars to the Western Penitentiary or so much thereof in each case as may be necessary for the purpose of defraying the expenses of the transfer of convicts under and in accordance with the provisions of this act available immediately and until the thirty-first day of May Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three

Section 5 All acts or parts of act inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Session 1921 — 124th of the General Assembly

Vol. 6. HARRISBURG, PA., THURSDAY, MARCH 10, 1921. No. 26.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

THURSDAY, March 10, 1921.

The House met at 10 o'clock A. M.
The SPEAKER (Robert S. Spangler) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. W. H. Feldmann, offered the following prayer:

O Thou Prince of Peace, look down, we pray Thee, upon a war-torn and weary nation and grant that the morning benediction may rest upon them and that they may enjoy once more the fruits and the blessings of peace. And may those who are in authority lay aside all questions of power and personal gain, and seek only the welfare and interests of those whom they are there to represent: and may they, indeed, so order the things according to Thy will that the blessings of peace may flow like a stream unto all men: and may the part that we shall have to play in it be noble and generous and good and pure.

Make us too big to quibble; make us too generous to quarrel; and may we see, not only because it will bless, but because it is noble, those conditions and those phases of life that shall make peace a boon and a blessing unto ourselves and to all others. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MONDAY, March 14, 1921.

The House met at 9 o'clock P. M.

The SPEAKER (Robert S. Spangler) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. W. H. Feldmann, offered the following prayer:

O Lord God Almighty, look down and bless this body of men who have upon them the solemn oath to defend the Constitution, and that they shall do this without reserve or restriction, not in part but in whole, is their solemn task. May an angel reminder be with them as they deliberate this week upon the affairs of the State. Fortify Thou them with courage and conviction as well as an enlightening conscience, that they may always act from the highest possible motive. And O God, grant that it may never occur, but if any who are prompted by ambition or selfishness dare to defile and offer unto them anything whereby they shall waver, give unto them the zeal and the earnestness to fling it back with disdain. And may their unimpeachable integrity be of such a nature and be so striking that all the men and women of this State shall see the same; and may it be exemplary that they in turn shall be willing to offer a quiet acquiescence to authority and observe the law of the land.

Bless Thou the State; bless all of its concerns; bless its people and give unto it a bright and happy future. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of the proceedings of Thursday, March 10, 1921.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the proceedings of Thursday, March 10, 1921, when, on motion of Mr. Phillips, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal was approved.

CONGRATULATING THOMAS H. GARVIN UPON THE BIRTH OF A GRANDSON.

Mr. FRANKLIN offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and adopted:

Whereas, It has come to the attention of the Members of the House of Representatives that since the adjournment on Thursday, March tenth, an event has occurred which has brought great joy and happiness to the genial, obliging, efficient and capable Chief Clerk of this House, and

Whereas, This event was occasioned by the birth of a son, whose parents, realizing the sterling qualities and virtues of the grandfather, have thought it appropriate that those qualities and virtues should always be impressed upon their son and have accordingly named him Thomas Garvin Mitchell; therefore be it

Resolved, That Members of the House of Representatives do hereby extend to the Chief Clerk of the House, Thomas H. Garvin, hearty congratulations upon the birth of a grandson and do hereby approve the selection made by the parents in naming their son Thomas Garvin Mitchell.

WM. C. SPROUL.

The SPEAKER. The communication will be noted in the Journal and the report printed in the Appendix to the Legislative Journal.

(For Report see Appendix.)

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

GOVERNOR'S ACTION ON HOUSE BILL NO. 130.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, March 10, 1921.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I have the honor to inform you that I h
day approved and signed House Bill No. 130, entitled "An act making an appropriation to the State Highway Department for the construction of permanent State Highways for the payment of the Commonwealth's share in the expenses of constructing State-aid Highways for the maintenance and repair of State Highways within the limits of boroughs for the maintenance and repair of State-aid Highways for the payment of rewards due townships of the second class for the payment of damages to property caused or occasioned in connection with the work of the State Highway Department," except as to the following items:

The item providing "For the construction of permanent State Highways the sum of four million dollars ($4,000,000)" is approved in the sum of two million seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($2,750,000). I withhold my approval from the remainder of said item.

Also the item "For the payment of the Commonwealth's share in the expenses of constructing State-aid Highways as provided in the act of May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and eleven and supplements and amendments thereto the sum of four million five hundred thousand dollars ($4,500,000)" is approved in the sum of four million dollars ($4,000,000). I withhold my approval from the remainder of said item

The aforesaid reductions have been made because of insufficient State revenues.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

GOVERNOR'S ACTION ON HOUSE BILL NO. 139.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, March 10, 1921.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed House Bill No. 139, entitled "An act making an appropriation to the State Highway Department for salaries expenses and maintenance of the same," except as to the following item:

"For the payment of the salaries of an assistant State Highway Commissioner a Chief Engineer a Township Commissioner a maintenance engineer a controller an assistant controller a principal assistant engineer construction engineers engineer of tests office engineer engineer of plans and surveys bridge engineer township engineer district engineers additional civil engineers engineers' assistants registrar of motor vehicles executive manager statistician secretary superintendent of highways inspectors purchasing agent paymasters cost accountant bookkeepers cashier equipment engineer mechanicians draughtsmen stenographers additional clerks and all other necessary employes ncessary traveling expenses contingent and incidental expenses necessary expenses of the Automobile Division purchase and maintenance of motor equipment maintenance and equipment of a physical and chemical laboratory survey and plotting of county and township roads and the making and publishing of maps thereof the sum of four million seven hundred eighty thousand dollars ($4,780,000)," which is approved in the sum of three million three hundred and thirty thousand dollars ($3,330,000). I withhold my approval from the reminder of said item.

The aforesaid reduction has been made because of insufficient State revenue, and because of my opinion that a due proportion of the expense of the administration of the State Highway Department should be borne by the maintenance fund and the permanent construction funds available from the proceeds of the State road bonds.

BILL ON THIRD READING (SPECIAL ORDER).

The SPEAKER. The hour of 9.30 o'clock having arrived, the Chair lays before the House as a special order (Senate Bill No. 2), House Bill No. 779, file folio 385, on page 1 of today's calendar, on third reading and final passage.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 779, (Senate Bill No. 2), entitled:

An Act to fix the salaries of the judges of the Supreme Court and the judges of the Superior Court

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker, in Pennsylvania we have a Supreme and a Superior Court of which we are all proud, but in considering this bill we do not have to consider the value nor the necessity of these courts. Fortunately, they have often proved our salvation and safety so often in times of stress and danger that now we ought to be in no doubt upon that question. The subject before us is, whether we are doing our duty or not in compensating the members of these two courts; whether or not we are compensating them in an adequate, a fair manner and in keeping with the character of the work which they perform for us and with the dignity of this great Commonwealth. Public opinon has established a method of living for men occupying such high positions as the judges of the Supreme and the Superior Courts and these individuals cannot vary from those standards even though they wished to. Various expenses are forced on them; each judge knows that he is required to travel and be away from home and occupy hotels in the larger cities at great expense, at least five months in the year. It is that traveling throughout the State by the judges which is a great economy and convenience and assistance to all the attorneys of the Commonwealth and a saving economy to the litigants. Therefore we should consider that extraordinary expense to which they are subjected in weighing the question whether or not they are adequately and fairly compensated. If you will compare their salaries with those of various other judges, even those of lesser importance, you will find that their salaries do not measure up even with the city judges of some of the western cities with a smaller jurisdiction; and they do not measure up to the salaries, I believe, of any of the higher courts of the standard and size of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. I wish to say to the membership of the House that I think the only question here to consider is whether or not we should permit them to be hampered and embarassed by salaries which are not in keeping with the possibilities they would have as practicing lawyers, nor with the dignity of such a court.

Mr. HORNE. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House. Two years ago the Legislature increased the salary of Supreme Court judges and Superior Court judges. This was done at a time when war prices prevailed, and although many of us believed the raise in salary uncalled for and unwise at that time now when we are in the midst of a period of depression and retrenchment, we are called upon to raise these salaries again. We are emerging from a period of inflated prices on raw material, labor, transportation and marketing in which the dollar lost two-thirds of its value, but we are entering a period of depression in which the dollar will buy more than its value in labor and material. Every magazine and newspaper has noted shut down industries, idle men walking the streets and values (inflated) falling from dizzy heights to the bottom.

At a time like this it is inopportune and disastrous to increase the cost of government, create jobs or add to salaries,—it is not in keeping with the spirit of the times, false to the hungry people, those working part time or reduced wages, as well as, to the idle industries and operations whose taxes and overhead expenses are eating them up while they are not producing.

No business man or corporation could at this time, do a thing so contrary to justice, so dangerous to his future. Why then, should we be so unfair as to ask this State, which we swear to serve, to place a heavier tax upon its people—when none of us are doing it in our business nor will we go home to raise the wages of our employes if we vote for this measure? Will you raise the wages of your help next week or next month?

President Harding, in his wisdom, saw fit to save this nation $48,500.00 and spent only $1,500.00 for his inauguration. The reasons he gave met with the approval of rich and poor alike.

Our Senior Senator, a shrewd statesman, within the last week has called the attention of this country to the growing depression, "We cannot look to improved business conditions until tax legislation is revised and government extravagance is abolished. My reports show increasing depression. What must be done is to practice economy in government, abolish all unnecessary boards and surplus employes in government.

The President was able to secure his cabinet at $12,000.00 per year and I believe he was able to secure the best in the land.

The judges of U. S. Dist. Courts serve for $6,000.00 per year and the Circuit Court judges for $8,000.00 per year.

The Vice President of the United States receives $12,000.00 per year and a United States Senator only $7,500.00 per year.

Are the judges of our State courts, superior beings? Shall they live separately and apart from all others as a class? Has all of education and art and music and science and literature, represented in the toil of the ages, been collected for these judges, and allow all others to pay tribute, but do without these refinements?

Those who are urging this salary increase are doing the courts much harm without intending it. A wall of prejudice, and distrust and hatred is being constructed about our Courts. The great Roosevelt ten years or more ago warned this country that unless the courts became more the property of the people, they would be destroyed. He advocated the recall of judges as a solution of this problem.

The Courts rendering a great function as they were intended to do, should be a place of refuge, and sympathy, and justice, and yet how frequently do we hear them referred to as places to shun,—to stay clear of,—with intimations of injustice, persecution and prejudice.

As a great State seeking new revenue for construction work, for education, roads, colleges, charity, rehabilitation of our crippled soldiers and bonus for all our boys and nurses and assistance to the army of widows and orphans, the result of the war and attendant disease—we cannot, we should not pass bills to add to the cost of government.

If you want fewer roads and schools and less charity then you will be justified, but not otherwise.

Our province and duty lies in doing the most good for the largest number of people. You must choose between increasing the high salaries of a few men as against serving the great army of people and industries which you represent.

I plead with you to defeat this bill. Don't forget that many superintendents of schools and principals of high schools some of whom at least are as well trained as any of our judges, are receiving less than $5,000.00 per year, and you will admit that the schools to train the coming nation are quite as important as judges to pass on laws.

Let us put the school teacher up to a living wage instead of making our scale of recompense more lop-sided.

If it is a matter of favoring a friend, on the bench, you can serve him best by voting against so unpopular and unwise a measure at this time. A raise of $5,000 in two years will not sound good to the fellow who has just received a 25 per cent cut in wages or lost his job entirely nor to the industry that is closed for lack of orders.

It was my hope that this administration would retrench and would cut down all the expenses it could, and spent whatever money it spends in constructive work, such as education, good roads, or the bonus bill which will take care of the boys of this State, and also the nurses and those who need rehabilitation from the war, and that includes the widows and orphans of this State. Surely we cannot overlook the public schools and our colleges and the school teachers and the principles of the high schools and the college professors many of whom are quite as important as the judges of the Supreme Court or of the Superior Court, and yet they are working for a salary far below five thousand dollars a year and the school teacher below one hundred dollars a month. How can you quibble over raising the salary of a school teacher from sixty to one hundred dollars a month; how can you question raising their salary, and then come along with a salary like this placing these men far apart from all other men in this country. The members of the cabinet of the President of the United States receive twelve thousand dollars a year and I dare say none of you question the caliber of the men who were chosen. I dare say we have not had a dearth of candidates for the Supreme Court or Superior Court in the State of Pennsylvania, and even though I might look forward to a time when I might occupy one of those places I would consider that you were not doing those judges any good by raising their salary, but you might be doing them a great injury, because I believe that by so doing we will place upon the courts of this State and this nation prejudice and suspicion. I think it is ten years or more ago that Theodore Roosevelt called attention to this very fact. He was very harshly criticized at the time. He said that unless the courts were brought nearer to the people, so that the people felt that they were places of refuge, places of sympathy, and places of justice instead of places of hatred, suspicion and prejudice our courts would fall and would be destroyed. I believe that you are helping to place them in that position by increasing salaries at this time. This would place every judge of your court, every one of them, in prejudice in hatred and in suspicion, and I believe your people will think that you are responsible and that these judges are responsible, for coming and demanding a salary increase at this time is neither wise nor economic. I speak only for my own district, and I would say that ninety per cent. of the people with whom I conversed regarding this bill, including the people close to the courts have said to me that this bill at this time is very inopportune, very unfair and injudicious. I hope that you men will consider the great bulk of people because when you are conferring upon them an increase in salary, you are doing them an injustice by this, you are helping to place criticism on them at time when they should receive the best feeling, when they are trying to solve, at a very critical time, the economic condition.

Mr. CRUM. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, possibly the gentlemen of the Supreme and Superior Courts will resent my interference with the supergenerosity of the gentlemen of the House here when I attack this bill here. I have great respect for the judges of the Supreme and Superior Courts. I believe they deserve some consideration, but I have a greater respect for the nine odd million people of this Commonwealth. I believe they deserve a greater consideration than do the judges of the Supreme or Superior Courts. I believe I am in accord with our senior Senator when he remarked the other day that it is time to take government out of business and reduce our taxes downward, to reduce the many useless bureaus and commissions which are duplicating work. He struck a popular keynote, and spoke with good common sense when he made those remarks. We as members of this House would do well if we could keep this advice before us in voting upon bills increasing the expenditures of this Commonwealth, and further aggravating a condition that is becoming unbearable and burdensome to the citizens of this State. If this bill is passed the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania will receive three thousand dollars more than the Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court. By what twist of the imagination and by what method of reasoning are we to be led to believe that this is a good measure? This bill is untimely and unwarranted and it is about time that we protest, and protest vigorously against this course of extravagance and waste. Are we blind to the chaotic conditions now facing labor and industry? Are we aware that thousands and tens of thousands of men and women are out of work? You notice daily in our press announcements of reduction in wages and salaries and to make things even worse business is now fighting for its very existence. We have reached the utmost limit of our patience and must put a stop to this raising of salaries, creating of departments and bureaus and putting additional jobholders to an army that is now already topheavy.

There seems to be a rivalry between two factions with the taxpayer sandwiched in between and paying the bill. One element burns the midnight oil into the wee hours of the morning devising new ways and means of extracting more money from these sufferers, and finding more revenues to spend. The other is putting forth an equal effort, not to be out-done by their rivals to discover new places to spend this revenue, for increasing salaries, and the thousand and one other things not needed. Are we unmindful of the verdict rendered by the voters last November against extravagance and further taxation? Have we forgotten our pledge as Republicans for greater economy and greater efficiency? We are still spending money like a drunken sailor. If we are to exercise economy we must begin now by voting in the negative against this bill. So far I have not seen one bill placed upon this calendar that reduces anything. I plead with the gentlemen of this House to vote down this bill and save these forty-two thousand dollars for the schools and the mothers' assistant fund. They are more deserving than are either the judges of the Supreme or Superior Courts.

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, reference has been made to the Supreme Court of our State, some comparison has been made between it and the Supreme Court of the United States. In the first place it would be wise if those gentlemen who referred to the Supreme Court of the United States would remember that historically it got its start from the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, and that John Marshall was not its first chief justice, but he became the one who was known as the great interpreter of the Constitution. The Supreme Court of the United States consists of nine judges. They sit in Washington, and receive a salary of thirteen thousand dollars a year as to eight of them and thirteen thousand five hundred dollars as to the Chief Justice. They sit, as I said, in Washington, and there they decide on the questions as they see fit. In the State of Pennsylvania our Supreme Court has a record which has not been equaled by the Supreme Court in any other state of this Union. Its antiquity goes back to the days of the Colonies, and it has maintained that peculiar power through these years that has caused the legal world to look upon it as one of the greatest Supreme Courts in the Union.

Our judges of the Supreme Court travel to three cities. They sit in Philadelphia, they sit in Harrisburg and they sit in Pittsburgh. They are not all Philadelphians, they are not all men from Harrisburg, they are not all men from Pittsburgh. They are therefore compelled to pay their traveling expenses and their hotel bills wherever they go outside of their homes.

The Superior Court sits in four places and is compelled in like manner to pay the expenses to which I have referred. From my examination, as well as from the remarks of the gentleman from Chester, it is my firm conviction that their salaries are used in part to pay their hotel bills and their traveling expenses. The Supreme Court of the United States has neither hotel bills nor traveling expenses. Reference has been made to the Circuit Court of the United States, the Circuit Court of Appeals in the various appeal districts, the nine circuit districts of the United States. If anyone will examine the calendar of those courts they will discover that they are not quite as burdensome as the calendars of our Supreme and Superior Courts. It might be of interest to the gentlemen who are opposed to this bill to know that by the end of this year these appellate courts of our State will have passed upon practically seventeen hundred cases, involving the lives of many of our citizens and also an amount of at least two hundred millions of dollars. They have done what they were elected to do, and they have done it well. They are away from their homes on the average of seven months in the year.

They sit night and day. The fact that the court adjourns at three o'clock in the afternoon merely means an adjournment from argument, but those who know can tell you, and perhaps you might be able to discover it for yourself, that they sit until eleven, twelve and even one o'clock at night deciding those momentous questions which are argued before them. Those judges today are compelled to live in a certain way. You and I know that if we saw the Governor of this Commonwealth residing in some cheap and perhaps scandalous hotel we would be horrified and disgusted. In like manner we must expect the Supreme and Superior Court judges of the State to live in a dignity which some of us perhaps need not maintain, but to have our judges living during the months they are outside of their own home towns in hotels that are below grade would be a mark of disrespect to both the people who expect it and an insult to ourselves for expecting it.

I submit, Mr. Speaker, there is no real argument against the bill. The question of economy is not to be considered but the question of a fair and honest wage for the high service rendered. It was never thought that the cost of travel would go to the great rates that they have arrived at today, neither was it considered at the time that the hotel costs would have increased as high as today. Taking these things into consideration, and realizing also that these appellate judges are compelled from their own private fortunes to add to their earnings in order to live and maintain their homes, in order to educate their children, in order to entertain those who must necessarily see them, the salary today is absolutely inadequate and particularly so when what we are doing by this increase is merely giving to them their traveling expenses and hotel bills. It seems to me when we consider the fact that the judges must sit practically for ten months in the year, and sometimes eleven, attempting to adjudicate the problems coming before them, it would be childish for us to attempt to deny it, if we do deny it, from an honest standpoint. Argument has been submitted here tonight that we should devote this fund to the Mothers' Pension Fund or to the school fund or some other worthy fund. I wish to say to you that those matters have not been overlooked by the Governor, but have been seriously considered by him, and when the time has come for his final consideration of these measures, they will receive every dollar which it is possible to give them from the coffers of this State. There has been talk here tonight about wages going down and salaries being reduced and a general retrenchment, and reference was made also to the remarks of our senior Senator. If the gentleman from Huntingdon and the gentleman from Cambria will examine those remarks of Senate Penrose, they will discover that he is not referring to Pennsylvania bureaus, but is referring to those unnecessary bureaus which were created in Washington, and to those alone. It is true that economy must be practiced, but it is more important that honesty should be practiced and that the servant who has served worthily receive a fair compensation for his work. I ask you gentlemen of this House to believe that this measure in reality is not a political measure; it is a measure presented to you for one purpose only and that is to give these men an adequate compensation for the great service which they are rendering the Commonwealth. I would like to take issue with some of the gentleman's statements with regard to the condition existing in the Supreme Court of the United States and in the Federal Court. Last Saturday night, in conversation with two of the judges from Ohio, I called their attention to the fact that our Supreme Court at the end of every year had decided every case which had come before it. They told me that the record existed in no other state in the Union, and I can tell you also that it does not exist in any Federal Court. You must remember that in our Supreme Court you are held down in your debate and presentation of a case to twenty minutes. In the Supreme Court of the United States you can argue for two or three days and the Supreme Court of the United States takes months and months and sometimes over a year to decide a case. But in this state those judges sit day and night and their whole purpose is to see that the case is disposed of, that the people of the Commonwealth shall know just exactly where they stand and that justice, as far as it is within the human ability to act, shall have been given. Gentlemen, weigh this matter carefully; consider the great importance of our judicial decisions; consider the great importance of our appellate courts, and I am satisfied when you examine them and the record of these courts that you will agree that no sound reason nor logic or any question of economy or any other question will prevent you from supporting this bill. It is to be remembered in conclusion that the great bugaboo raised here tonight in opposition to this bill has not been supported in the fact. The Supreme Court particularly has been attacked for its expense, and it might interest those who oppose this measure to remember that this State has 8,770,017 inhabitants and that the cost of the Supreme Court to those inhabitants is 1,726 cents for each individual, so that our Supreme Court is not the extravagant institution that the opponents of this bill seem to consider it to be.

Mr. HORNE. Mr. Speaker, I think it is unfair to this House to take much more of your time, but I would like to make a sort of a reply to some of the things which to me did not seem very sincere, coming from my colleague, the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Walker. First, in the comparison of these courts: It was not my purpose to slight the courts of Pennsylvania. I have a high regard for the courts of Pennsylvania and for their judgment. I happen to have some personal friends in the Court and if I wanted to please myself and be political, in a manner, I might want to go along with the measure, but to speak of the poor judges of the courts of Pennsylvania, the judges of the Supreme Court and the Superior Court and comparing them with the Federal Courts, I say it is ridiculous. I will not permit the argument to be made without answering in regard to the position of the Superior Court of Pennsylvania or the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania as compared with the United States Supreme Court. There are other states that have furnished some of the material and some of the records that go into that, as to the condition that prevails. I will read a quotation from Senator Penrose as he gave it some time ago, which has been published.

"One of the strongest arguments against undertaking temporary revision of the tariff laws is that such action will require double work, and almost as much time will be consumed in passage of an emergency act as a permanent one. Senator Penrose does not believe that much time will be wasted. He said to-day the methods employed in times past would be resorted to and the agreement of rates be made the subject of a party caucus.

"Under the influence of a disciplined party and the reference of rates to a caucus, if necessary, congress should be able to get a tariff bill through in quick time," he said.

"Does that not savor of the steamroller?" he was asked. "No, there is plenty of precedence for that. The Democrats got the Underwood bill through by decision on party caucuses."

Mr. Penrose said business conditions were growing worse in the country and that reports coming from him from Pennsylvania showed that there was a gradual decline in prosperity.

"We cannot look to improved business conditions until tax legislation is revised and government extravagance is abolished," he added. "My reports show increasing depression, and I do not believe business will improve until the country is given assurance of changes in the laws which are now hampering business. If given such assurance, confidence will be restored just as it was in 1892, when the country was told that the Dingley tariff law would be enacted.

"What must be done is to practice economy in government; abolish all unnecessary boards and surplus employes in the government. Business is standing still because of natural trade conditions, which cannot be changed by legislation. But legislation can be employed to aid business restoration by amending laws which are now hampering it and which were enacted for war-time conditions."

That is Senator Penrose's position. As for the economy condition in which we find ourselves, I don't believe that a dollar today buys more than it did two years ago. You know that there are many industries closed and that a great many men are out of work. To my mind, take the great bulk of the population of Pennsylvania today, there are many who would welcome more wages and they are just as fond of comfort and luxuries as the judges of the Supreme Court and the Superior Court and perhaps they would appreciate them just as much. While I have the highest regard for my colleague, I think there is a strain of insincerity running through his argument in pleading for these "poor judges." They are not to be beggared; they are not to be deprived of the necessities of life, and I believe that it is ridiculous to get up here and appeal for them with an argument of this kind on the pretense that the judges are being neglected.

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, at the risk of appearing ridiculous in the eyes of the gentleman from Cambria, I simply want to add a final word in behalf of this bill. Mr. Speaker, in doing so I am not unmindful of the present financial condition of the nation and of the country, and I recognize that these things make it incumbent upon us to exercise economy in governmental expenditures, but we can meet the obligation to the people and we can meet our duty to the Commonwealth and we can meet the heavy responsibilities that rest upon us without paying an inadequate compensation to those whom we have honored by elevation to the highest courts of this Commonwealth, and that in turn honor the State and justify the confidence placed in them by faithfully and diligently discharging the duties of their office.

Comparison has been made between the salaries paid to the judges of the Supreme Court and the judges of the Superior Court of Pennsylvania and those paid to similar courts in other states. Those comparisons have shown conclusively that we do not pay as much other states who have in the past increased salaries in other states and if not, I would still be for this bill, because Pennsylvania, while she may be inferior to some states in population, in wealth, she is not in the soundness of her law, in justice in this Commonwealth, as administered in Pennsylvania, she stands supreme; is rich in tradition, glorified in history, as the laws of the Commonwealth have been interpreted and administered by the Supreme and the Superior Courts, and they have exerted a profound influence in bringing Pennsylvania to that proud position. Comparison has been made between the Federal court and those of Pennsylvania. It is one thing that I think is a crying shame that our judges in the Federal courts receive small and inadequate salaries, so small, in fact, that one of them found it necessary to accept a $42,500 job in addition to that paid him by the government. I do not justify his position in doing that, but he says that the salary he receives as a judge of the court is not sufficient. The salary of the United States judges is about on a par with that paid to our ambassadors, and you know how inadequately they are paid. Now, Mr. Speaker, it would be false economy to deny this increase to our judges. There is an old adage, "Pennywise, pound foolish." We might squander, in some respects, but I don't think that you will find that this General Assembly is doing it, but we should not be parsimonious in paying salaries to our judges. Take the few states that are claimed to be on about par with Pennsylvania, in the city of New York, for instance, the judges of the Supreme Court there receive $17,500 a year. New Jersey pays $19,000, and are you going to argue that it would be on a par to ask this great Commonwealth to pay less to its judges than the salaries that are being paid by the different other states of this country.

I think the general impression before this discussion started was that the justices of the Supreme and Superior Court were entitled to mileage and hotel expenses. They are not, any statement to the contrary notwithstanding. All they receive in addition to their salaries is four thousand dollars, for clerks, stenographers, briefers and investigators. They pay their clerks at least three thousand dollars. I say it is very odd that we voted three thousand dollars for the judges of the courts of Dauphin county and are now going to deny our Supreme Court and Superior Court Justices the same amount. At times when they go to a hotel in other cities it is necessary for them out of their own pockets to pay some of the expenses of their help. This increase will only provide for that and it is not fair to ask them to do it themselves. Some say they are adequately paid; they like the jobs. Well, gentlemen, because a man is willing to give up a lucrative practice to sit as a judge and work at that which is a little more congenial and work at that which he likes to do are you going to impose upon him because he accepts that responsibility and say to him "You have the honor, get along as well as you can." No, I do not think that is the sentiment of this Assembly. I do not believe gentlemen that you will refuse to do that thing which justice demands. When we go into our courts all we ask for there is simple justice. When the courts come before us and ask for an increase in salary, that is all they are asking for, simple justice. I feel that the justices of these courts ought to have this increase.

Mr. MARTIN. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I would like to vote for this bill to-night, but I do not intend to do so. The remarks of the gentleman from Philadelphia and from Allegheny move me almost to tears when I think of those little children of those judges holding out their hands for bread to-night I confess I would like to vote for this bill, but if the gentleman from Chester and the gentleman from Philadelphia, and the gentleman from Allegheny will show me and the other gentlemen of this House to-night where the State of Pennsylvania is going to procure the revenue with which to do the thousand and one things which we have got to decide here within the next few weeks, I will vote for this bill. I have not anything against this raise in salary then, but I have a great deal against this raise in salary under the conditions that now obtain in this State. If I read the newspapers correctly the demands upon our State Treasurer are something like fifteen million dollars in excess of its receipts—I have been told here fifty millions. I am very much afraid that some of you gentlemen are going to be met at the station by a delegation when you get home, and it is not going to be a delegation with a brass band to escort you, but I think it is going to be a rail in some cases. I shall vote against this bill for the reason that I think it would be poor economy to go and raise the salaries of men who are now well paid in their positions, when the great public school system of our State is crying for money, when the mothers' pension and widows' pension fund needs millions of dollars, and when those three great educational institutions, the University of Pennsylvania, State College and the University of Pittsburgh need many millions. We had better begin to economize quickly and I shall vote against this bill.

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, the gentleman from Allegheny has just questioned where the State of Pennsylvania would get sufficient revenue to pay this forty-two thousand dollars justly asked for by the justices of the Supreme Court and the Superior Court. Might I suggest to the gentleman from Allegheny that he had better try to subside himself from extracting from the sources of revenue of the State of Pennsylvania such revenue as it now gets from our departments. My colleague from Allegheny county and my colleague from Philadelphia have started in short a few figures. Gentlemen, I need not recount to you where Pennsylvania stands amongst the Commonwealths of this United States, but I know that the figures that I have here will impress you to the final conclusion that you yourselves will feel that Pennsylvania should give to the justices of the Supreme and Superior Courts a wage that is commensurate with the office and the service in that office. Do you know, gentlemen of the House, that there are only four states in the United States in which the costs of the maintenance of the courts are less than in Pennsylvania, and it is significant, particularly significant, to mention these states here so that you may compare them in point of population and in point of importance. The states are Texas, Ohio, South Carolina and North Carolina. Those states and those only are the states in which less money is paid to the maintenance of the Supreme Court than in Pennsylvania.

In the state of New Jersey, gentlemen, with a population of one third that of the population of Pennsylvania, the cost per capita to maintain the Supreme Court is seven and one-half cents, and in Pennsylvania as the gentlemen from Philadelphia, Mr. Walker, stated to you, it is not quite two cents. Two cents! In fact, gentlemen, with the increase that these men fairly ask for the cost per capita is only two cents. Gentlemen, surely you are sensible to the fact that the activities of this whole Commonwealth lie in the balance of justice that rests in your Supreme and your Superior Courts. Economy! Of course economy, but what better safeguard can you place around the activities of the government of this State than to at least make the office, the most important judicial office in the state, attractive to men of caliber, quality, integrity and learning, who at least would look at this office and see that when they got there, if they do, the compensation would at least be adequate to the responsibility, to the honor and the position that the office calls for. I hope gentlemen of this House you will be sensible to these facts and will vote to support this bill.

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker I move the previous question.

The motion was seconded by the following: Messrs. Phillips, Edmonds, Haws, Goodnough, Jordan, Stadtlander, Joseph Marcus, Baldi, Golder, Ehrhardt, J. A. Walker, Whitaker, Sterling, Dunn, DeHaas, Franklin, Dilsheimer, Drinkhouse, Fox, Dithrich and others.

The SPEAKER. More than twenty members having joined in moving the previous question,

On the question,

Shall the main question be put?

It was agreed to

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken.

Mr. HORNE. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified as follows:

BILL ON THIRD READING (SPECIAL ORDER.)

The SPEAKER. The hour of 10 o'clock P. M. having arrived, the House will now proceed to the consideration of House Bill No. 583, file folio 831, the Special Order set for this hour.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 583, entitled:

An Act to save daylight and to establish the period therefor in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, may I say a few words in explanation of the provisions of this bill. It provides for what is called the short-term of daylight saving, taking effect on the second Sunday of April and continuing until the second Sunday of September,—from April 10th to September 11th. The bill has been referred to by my name. I cannot claim the credit for having framed this bill. It comes from the oldest and most distinguished scientific society in our State, the American Philosophical Society, founded by Benjamin Franklin more than one hundred and fifty years ago, and is composed of men who are capitalists and men who labor. The society since 1917 has been urging the passage of such an act as this, which comes at this time before the House because there is a general movement among the industrial sections asking Congress to establish a uniform daylight saving plan for five months throughout the eastern railway district. Recently the State of New York has had the question before them, and while the State of New York has repealed the daylight saving law it still will have daylight saving, optional in the large communities. Now from the industrial community, those representing the strong manufacturing and commercial districts throughout the country,—it is from those districts that the cry for daylight saving has come.

I want to submit the three reasons why this act should pass in Pennsylvania,—first, health; second, thrift, and the third, recreation. I want to say to my friends on the other side that this is not a golf player's bill; it is not a bill for the recreation of the few, but it is based upon principles far more fundamental than that. First, health. When the daylight saving bill was before the legislature in the city of New York, Dr. Royal Copeland, who has been for years the Commissioner of Health in New York and who knows more than anyone else about the conditions in the poor districts of New York, appeared before the legislature and attacked the opponents of daylight saving from the point of view of the health of the poor in New York city. His argument was presented along strictly scientific lines. He said that an hour of sunlight is the best disinfectant in the world; that six hours of sunlight would kill a tuberculosis germ, and that an hour of sunlight a day for five months would be a great deal better than a two weeks' vacation even out in the country; and from that point of view the American Philosophical Society urged this question,—from the point of view of health. Go further than that, Mr. Speaker. During the time that daylight saving was in operation we had an opportunity to see how it affected the health of the industrial worker. I want to quote from the statement of Frank Morrison, Secretary of the American Federation of Labor, which statement was issued on February 22, 1919. In that statement he said that there were many hundreds less of industrial accidents in 1918 than in the preceding year and he states that the daylight saving played a substantial part in that decrease. In other words, industrial accidents increase in the late hours, when the artificial light comes on. If you can cut down that labor which involves the closest attention that mind and body can give by an hour more of daylight, you will save human life and accidents, and therefore I say the first argument in favor of this bill is health. In the second place there is thrift. This is the time when thrift should be practiced. Do you know that the United States Fuel Commissioner estimates that one and one-half million tons of coal were saved during the war, when we had daylight saving? The great gas and electric companies of New England report that the consumption decreased by ten per cent. Now in our great cities, when the daylight saving was in operation, there was a great move toward the kitchen garden which enabled a man to gain some of those things for himself which go toward the enjoyment of life. From the point of view of thrift our cities have tried this law, and it works.

In the third place, we have recreation. Now recreation has become a necessity and has become a necessity the whole land over. I want to speak a word on recreation which I personally witnessed. During the course of the war we took five per cent. of the population of this country and put them into the army. The first thing the city men had to learn was how to take care of themselves physically, and the army insisted upon outdoor recreation under the sunlight in order that the men could harden themselves and fit themselves for the tasks ahead of them. Now the war is over and that magnificent civilian army, so full of the youth and promise of the nation, that great army has disintegrated and has gone back again to civilian life. These men are now in the machine shop, the factory, the office and in the counting house. They are commencing to feel the effects of the confinement. Recently I was asked to serve on a local committee where we were awarding scholarships to ex-service men. We awarded about seven hundred in the city of Philadelphia, and in talking with these men, and I personally interviewed about one-third of them, I did not find a man who didn't say that this army experience had been of great benefit to him physically, but that the moment he got back again into the office, or inside life, just that moment the confinement of his job began to affect him physically.

I recall one case of one man upon his return from service to his job, he lost forty-two pounds in weight and so had to try to find some job that would take him out in the air or find some other situation of that kind. From the point of view of the physical well being of the nation, we must take care of these youths and give them a chance and see that they can go out into the open air under the sun and enable them to get this exercise in the open which means so much for the well being and life of that individual. Now, who is against it? There has been an increase of men who have been employed in the factories as against men who have been employed on farms. I could have come here tonight with innumerable papers and petitions and letters with which to illustrate the other point of view. In the matter of mail, we have been swamped with it, and I take it that the mail of many members here has been enormous and that they have been swamped with it, but I take it that we are not going to settle this by the number of petitions we may receive, but on the basis of what is best and right for the people of this Commonwealth and what is the best course in that connection for them to follow. I wish to say to my friends who have been so earnest in this matter and I say to them frankly, if this is a case in which you can help to bring about a result that will save one hundred babies in the congested districts of the cities or will save one or two thousand men from being maimed in the industrial establishments of this State, is it not worth your while? On the Delaware recently, there were 1600 people quarantined owing to the presence of typhus which is one disease that needs daylight in order to beat it out, and if it once gets in the sunlight, it is that sunlight which eventually will drive it out. Whereas the advantages and blessings which are to be enjoyed by those who lived in the country districts, it is not fair to assume when face to face with the industrial situation which requires consideration from the point of view of health and sanitation, that this be denied to them or that they shall not be given this chance, and is it not fair to ask you to go along and join with us in passing this legislation?

Mr. JORDAN. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I will ask for a little of your time to-night, sufficient I hope to be able to give you the reasons that are presented by those who are in opposition to this daylight saving bill. If that takes me two minutes, well and good; if it take ten minutes, well and good. In the first place, I want to state this: that my work has been largely that of trying to bring the country and the city closer together in understanding, in sympathy, in co-operation. I have spoken up and down the land on this theme in large cities and in small cities, and I probably will give the remainder of my life to that line of activity. There is naturally no antagonism between country and city; they are mutually dependent; the city could not exist and thrive without the fields and the fields could not exist and thrive without the city. That is a factor I believe which is not fully understood on the part of all how dependent we are upon the farmer. Before I proceed further, let me say this: I was brought up on a farm; I own a farm. I have lived in the city for years, practically live in the city now and going out on the farm. I speak not from theory but I speak from experience. I have associated with the pigs and the politicians, and the plutocrats and the Presbyterians. I have associated with the cows and the city folks. I have worn blue overalls and I have worn a spike-tailed coat and I know how to eat with my fork and my spoon. I think I understand both sides, having lived as long in one as in the other, I am not more in sympathy with the city than I am with the country. I am wholly unbiased and want to present to you folks facts; friends, if it were not for the country you would not have a John Wanamaker's store. John Wanamaker sells drygoods and you could not have dry goods unless you have the fields, because the fields are necessary for dry goods. You would not have the woollen factory or the cotton factory sending forth its product if they were not furnishing materials, in the raw, that came from the fields. You would not have a retail store or a wholesale store or a grocery store without them because all these things come from the fields. We would not have anything to eat if it were not for the farm.

I want to refer to several of the points made by the sponsor of this bill. First, I believe he attempted to present the the idea that it will be a saving of health and light to pass this bill, and further the author of the bill I believe was blamed on Benjamin Franklin, and I didn't like that for "Ben" is not here to defend himself. to night. Gentlemen, hear me: I have looked up the almanac. If this bill were passed daylight saving would begin in April and end in September. It would be absolutely broad daylight when a man would go to work on this time or on the new time. It would be absolutely broad daylight when they would go to their work on the present time or on the time proposed under this daylight saving bill—absolutely daylight in both cases. Then how in the name of goodness will more men became injured in factories if we begin one hour later or one hour earlier since they all work in broad daylight? These are facts; how could there be such a situation, my friends, as has been referred to. In the next place we are told that it would be a matter of thrift: How are they likely to burn more coal during those summer months in broad daylight under both circumstances than otherwise. Now, also, they have referred to our soldiers running down physically; running down at the heels, because they need more daylight. When I heard the gentleman from Alle gheny speaking a little while ago, I thought he needed to go to a sanatorium, so weak was he of voice; and when I took at the gentleman from Chester my heart aches for him; and when I look at the gentleman from Philadelphia, another soldier, and at my colleague, from Union, why, I have heartache again. The boys got up at thirteen minutes of five, and wanted it to be thirteen minutes of six, and went to bed at nine o'clock. I think what we need is to get up at fifteen minutes of six, make it that and go to bed at nine o'clock. I am going to give you some few reasons why we are opposing this measure.

First among the reasons, the government of the United States decided that we were to retain our present time—an overwhelming decision. They had time to deliberate and certainly they knew what they were doing. Second, the state of New York tried it, weighed it in the balance and found it wanting. They repealed it and the Governor has signed the repeal. They have gone back to the old time. Are we going to go against the experience on the North; are we going to go against the deliberate decision of the United States Congress. If we were to introduce daylight saving it would upset our railroad schedules. The interstate trains would run as they do run, and if the state trains were to run an hour earlier and you were to make a connection you would learn that your train had gone an hour, for the schedules are made out in advance. You would learn then too that if you wanted to take a train you would have to wait an hour. If you were to go out of the state into other states you would have similar experiences. It would upset the railroad schedules.

Now I am going to come down to the Chamber of Commerce. Twenty-three chambers of Commerce have decided for it; seven have decided against it. The other chambers of commerce have taken no action whatever. The state chamber of commerce has taken no action whatever.

We will now come to labor. The American Federation at Atlantic City decided against it. The State Federation of Labor took no action against it as a state organization. The anthracite workers I have been told by the men who represent them, in speaking to them this evening, took action against it. The miners of your hard coal regions are against it. One hundred thousand laboring men wrote this gentleman here, "We are against it." In Pittsburgh the street railways men, five thousand strong, petitioned against it. Washington and Washington county last year decided for daylight saving. They took a referendum in all their factories and five to one they voted against it, and in one mining town of three hundred miners they voted unanimously against it. The representatives of labor representing six hundred thousand men, men who shovel coal, men who do the hard muscular work, sir, are against it, and those men must be considered in an economic and in a humanitarian way. Now I come to the farmer and I will give you his experiences and give them to you in part out of my own experiences. Gentlemen, with the farmer it is not a matter of prejudice, not at all. It is an obstacle that he cannot overcome, try as he will. They cannot thrash. They cannot cut hay and put away hay. They cannot cultivate their potatoes and vegetables when they are saturated with dew. One thousand vegetable growers were here the other day pleading that we maintain the old time that we have. They feed you, your vegetables down in Philadelphia. I say you cannot do these things. Three years ago when the daylight saving was on we had threshing machines that did not thresh as much as they did without daylight saving. I was then one of these half-past eight and nine o'clock fellows you know. I went out to the farm and ran the ensilage cutter occasionally. I went out one day and my foreman said to me come and see, and I went and saw the men gathered around who were there to do the threshing sit two hours at fifty-five cents an hour before one wheel could be turned. I saw that myself. I went out the next day and the next day and the daylight saving cost me on that one threshing job at least fifty dollars, just on that one threshing job. Now that is only a sample friends of what happens all along the line in dollars and cents. A senator over here told me the other day that daylight saving would cost him one thousand dollars a year. He has a large farm. The Secretary of Agriculture told us last Tuesday night at a dinner that the two hundred thousand farmers would have to pay two million dollars extra—if they could get the work done at all—just because of the physical impossibility to do it under the circumstances. I will just take another point of this question. You go out to milk the cow under this daylight saving and the cow is not done resting. You disturb her from her rest to get the milk that you fellows need for yourselves and your babies. If you disturb her at an early hour you will have to go and milk her at an unseemly hour in the afternoon again. I like cows, but I like human beings more than I like cows and if you do your milking in this way you will have stale milk. It is against nature. I spoke with a man tonight who said he was going to vote against this bill because they have six babies at his home, youngsters. He said, "When we had daylight saving we were necessitated to get out an hour earlier, and when we stirred the children stirred, and we could not put the children to bed until night came, and they were jaded and tired." Woman after woman has said to me work against it. It gets us up an hour earlier and wears us out, and it gets our children up an hour earlier and it wears our children out, the children and those who bear the burden of the heat of the day. My foreman said to me if they put this thing back upon us again I will leave the farm and go to the city and live. O, yes, you will say you did just as much work during the war. Yes, but every man and every woman and every child then went to work and did their share. I was out in my automobile one afternoon during that time and during that afternoon I saw thirteen women out in the fields pitching hay and pitching sheaves, and I said has it come to this that the women of America must become peasants as they are in Europe? Now that is something, sir, that I had to think about. Those men and women had to get up at that early hour, and it was necessary for them to go to bed while it was still daylight in order for them to get up at that unseemly hour. One of the girls of the Department of Agriculture said to her chief, "Cannot we go to work an hour earlier and stop an hour earlier?" He said, "why surely you can if you want to." If you want to change your time in the mills and offices and factories you can change it, but you cannot get your men on the farm to work an hour later in the evening, because I tried it. I have heard it said, "What is the difference the farmers work from daylight until dark anyway. What is the difference? I heard it this afternoon that the farmers work from daylight to dark anyway so what is the difference. Friends get that out of your heads. Farmers are human beings and there is no more reason for them to work from daylight to dark than there is for anyone else, and if they work from daylight to dark, that is up to them if they choose to do so, but they are entitled to just as good hours and just as good conditions as any other people under the sun. Don't you think so? When we are threshing and the men hear the whistles blow at the factories, they quit. Why do they quit? Because they are Americans. They want to go to the movies, they want to go to entertainments, they want to go to hear lectures, they want refinements. They have got their automobiles, they have good roads and if they work one hour later your movies will start and they cannot get in, and they will not stay on the farm, the red blooded fellows? Are we going to make conditions so that we will run the red blooded fellows off the farm?

Now, are we going to force this thing through or not? If we are we are going to commit an error that we will grieve over in the future. Have not the farmers had a rough enough row to hoe in the last eight months? I have statistics to offer which show that the farmers in the last eight months have lost $5,600,000,000, more than three times our public debt before the war broke out. No other class of people has dropped that much money in the same period of time. We talk about the increased production in this State. Yes, but seventeen thousand farms were deserted in this State and the population dropped; seventeen thousand farms were deserted in the last ten years, and twenty-two thousand five hundred in the state of New York. In New England alone five million acres have been abandoned in the last twenty years, land that the Pilgrims and Puritans cleared and tilled. A great deal of that was caused by discriminating legislation. Have you ever thought about that? We went to the city and joined the chambers of commerce and the Rotary clubs. Why do we go into these organizations? It is to have a bigger city, cheaper clothing and cheaper food; we want to beat Pittsburgh and we want to beat New York. If we have these meager conditions in the country, here is what we are doing, we are practically putting on a free trade basis the greatest industry in America—putting it on a free trade basis. If you are going to put the city up there you will have to put the farm up there. You cannot put the city up there and the farm down here. You cannot have the city on one level and the farm on the other; you must have them both on the same level. A fat farm means a fat city; a fat city means a fat farm: seventy-five per cent. cotton field means a seventy-five per cent. cotton factory, and the same is true all down the line. Are we going to add a little more? I do not believe we are, my friends. I believe some of these chambers of commerce who are making effort to get the farmers closer together and replant these old deserted fields, are going to say that it is business, it is humanity, and we can get up an hour earlier if we need more sunshine, and we will get up, so that we will not drive these men from the farm.

Gentlemen, I believe the time has come for us to get right down to bed-rock; I believe the time has come for us to get down to normal conditions, normal times; the time has come when we have got to get to work and find some pleasure and recreation in work. I believe the time has come when we have to get away from some of our war experiences and forget them and get busy and get the old world down to work—down to work. I would not vote for anything that would hurt the steel industry of Pittsburgh if by voting for it I would only be inconvenienced. I would not vote to hurt the locomotive industry of Philadelphia if in voting for it I had nothing to offer but my convenience. I would change my time if I wanted more sunshine. I would not vote to hurt the hard coal industry nor the soft coal industry. I have said to the fellows, "Let us be on the level, let us be big and let us do big things, and the city will come to us and give us big things. I am satisfied from my experience that if we will do the square thing by the city, the city will do the square thing by us." "Render unto Caesar the things which are Caesar's and unto God the things which are God's." Let us get dinner when the sun stands in the zenith, and not there. When we are going against a natural law we are going against our own heart. I know you will do the square thing, fellows.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I want first to express my congratulations to the gentleman from Lawrence for the admirable summary of his objections to this bill, and I want to ask his attention to two or three rather serious facts. In the city schedule the average man gets to work at seven thirty in the morning and leaves at five thirty in the evening. It takes him from half to three quarters of an hour to reach his home and a half hour to eat his evening meal, and it is seven o'clock or dark, when his free time has come. Now under this schedule it is so arranged that he has finished his work at five thirty in the evening or four and one-half hours afternoon, and he begins his work at seven-thirty, only four and one-half hours before noon. In other words we lose an hour in starting in. Unfortunately in the city conditions are so inter-related that no one man or two men or group of men can start to work an hour earlier and get the work done. They have got to stop to work with relation to all other groups. There is that intimate co-relation between them that the men must start together if they are going to work together. In the country it is perfectly true that this measure will cause some inconvenience, there will be some difficulty in the country districts. I cannot deny that, and I would not attempt to deny it. But I want to say to the gentleman from Lawrence that there are men who have made a careful study of the agricultural conditions of this country, who do not take the point of view he does. I refer to Herbert Quick, who operates a farm, who is the owner of a farm, the editor of a farm journal and a member of the Farmers' Board at Washington. Mr. Quick in his statement here says, "I see no merit in the farmers' contentions, except as to the dairymen's. I sympathize with them; but I do not believe that we should give up a system which benefits the whole country on account of inconveniences to the ordinary farmer which he may easily avoid, or even because of the real hardships to such people as the milkmen." I have here a letter from a farmer in Delaware county and it gives his address and name. The letter reads as follows: "Replying to your inquiry just received in reference to my own and my neighbors' position with respect to the daylight saving law, I have the following to say:

I favor it and hope the law is passed if it is made applicable to the whole State. Our farm men also are unanimously for it, and at the end of the period of two years ago a vote on the question resulted in our continuing daylight saving two weeks longer. Contrary to what is supposed to be a chief objection, we found our harvest work on the whole was benefited. We got started to work earlier and on several different days used the additional time at the end of our regular day to very great advantage getting in hay. In most cases with paid men extra for the added time, but the results were very satisfactory. I am speaking solely from the viewpoint of an active farmer, in verification of which I would state I have no city affiliations, am on the job from twelve to sixteen hours every day, and in one season as part of my work, superintended and helped raise and harvest 4,000 bushels of oats, 400 loads of hay, filled six silos and husked 10,000 bushels of corn.

In order to learn just what the sentiment among the neighboring farms is, I have called several of them on the telephone. The first reply to my question—'Are you in favor of or opposed to daylight saving?" was 'It doesn't make any difference to me, but I can't see where we will gain anything by changing the time.' The next one, who takes his milk to town by truck said, 'It would suit me fine as I could get my milk off before the day gets so hot.' Another stated he would be in favor of the change if the period began a few weeks later in the spring.

A summary of my canvass shows about an equal division, with most of those who are opposed being mainly opposed on what might be called principle. Some are opposed because they object to any 'tinkering with time'—others because they feel any scheme advocated by city interests would consequently be detrimental to country interests, and others are unreservedly in favor of the law being enacted.

I think that our country interests are closely related with those of the city, and that it is time old-fashioned prejudices are gotten out of our systems and room made for progress. The statement 'What was good enough for my father is good enough for me' is doubtless becoming more nearly obsolete, but it is still used by some as an argument in the discussion of the daylight situation.

Hoping the foregoing will in some measure answer your inquiry. I am very truly yours,

HERBERT C. BARKER."

Now, Mr. Speaker, I submit emphatically that when you have before you a proposition which on the grounds of health is demanded by the large industrial sections of the State and is only objected to by a very small majority, it is a very practical thing to do. This is for the worker in the city as well as for the worker on the farm, but yet the worker must live, and since the worker must live and grow in strength and health, I ask the favorable consideration of you gentlemen for this bill.

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House: Just a few words on this measure. It is my opinion that we should not pass this bill. Industry does not get enough advantage out of this bill to force it upon the agricultural interests of the State. I have never known a measure that has so thoroughly aroused the agricultural interests of this State as this measure has done. I am reliably informed that the defeat, or the chief factor that entered into the defeat, of Ex-Governor Smith of the State of New York was the signing of this very bill. I say to you, gentlemen, that in view of the fact that during the very critical period through which we have passed in recent years no part of the industry of this State was any more loyal than were the agricultural interests of the State.

And I submit to you, if any industry or manufacturing plant wishes to begin the day an hour earlier, they may do so, but there is not sufficient advantage gained by the industries of the State, miners, manufacturers and others, to justify the forcing of this bill on the agricultural interests. This is a measure against which the farmers are standing up practically to a man. They are asking this House not to pass it, and I trust you will not do so.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

HOUSE MESSAGE.

HOUSE CONCURS IN SENATE BILL NO. 2.

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced returned to the Senate, Senate Bill No. 2, entitled:

An Act to fix the salaries of the judges of the Supreme Court and the judges of the Superior Court, with the information that the House has passed the same without amendment.

BILLS SIGNED.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Edward E. Beidleman) announced that the Chief Clerk having reported that the following bill had passed both houses of the General Assembly and the same being correct, the title was publicly read as follows:

Senate Bill No. 2, entitled:

An Act to fix the salaries of the judges of the Supreme Court and the judges of the Superior Court.

Whereupon,

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Edward E. Beidleman) in the presence of the Senate signed the same.

RESOLUTION CALLING UPON THE PEOPLE OF THIS STATE TO DISPLAY THE NATIONAL COLORS ANNUALLY ON "MOTHER'S DAY," THE SECOND SUNDAY IN MAY, IN HONOR OF THE HOMES OF OUR STATE AND COUNTRY.

Mr. CROW offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered, and agreed to:

Whereas, The service rendered the United States by the American mother is a supreme source of the country's strength and inspiration; and,

Whereas, We honor ourselves and the mothers of our homes and America when we do anything to give emphasis to the home as the fountain head of the state; and,

Whereas, The American mother has done, and is doing, so much for the home, the moral uplift and religion, hence so much for good government, patriotism and humanity; therefore,

Be it resolved (if the House of Representatives concurs), That the governor of this state is hereby authorized and requested to issue annually a proclomation calling upon the state officials to display the United States flag on all state and school buildings, and the people of the state to display the flag at their homes, lodges, churches and places of business, and other suitable places, on the second Sunday in May, known as "Mother's Day," founded by Anna Jarvis, of Philadelphia, as a public expression of love and reverence for the mothers of our state and other women serving it, and as an inspiration for better homes and closer ties between the home and the Commonwealth.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 87, as follows:

An Act providing for the depositing of money with the clerk of the several courts of quarter sessions and oyer and terminer or other courts of record having jurisdiction in this Commonwealth in lieu of bail and recognizances with surety or sureties in criminal or quasi criminal prosecutions desertion or non-support and surety of the peace cases pending in said courts and fixing the fees of the said clerk of the courts

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That in all criminal or quasi criminal prosecutions in any of the courts of quarter sessions and oyer and terminer or other courts of record having jurisdiction desertion or non-support and surety of the peace pending in the said courts of this Commonwealth in lieu of bail and recognizances with surety or sureties thereon required and approved by the court the party or parties required to give and enter said bail or recognizances are hereby authorized and allowed to deposit with the clerk of the respective court in which said prosecution or proceeding is pending the amount in which bail or recognizance is required in current funds of the United States and said deposit shall be sufficient bail or recognizance upon the defendant or defendants entering his or their own bail or recognizance in the prosecution or proceeding to which said defendant or defendants would be entitled under existing laws by entering bail or recognizance with sufficient surety or sureties approved by the said court

Section 2 That the clerk of the said court with whom any such deposit in lieu of surety or sureties shall be made shall deposit said funds in some national bank or trust company approved by the court for the use of the party or parties who may thereafter recover the same or become entitled thereto by reason of the forfeiture or other breach of the condition of the bail or recognizance in the prosecution or proceeding in which the said deposit was made Provided however That upon the proper order of the said court the clerk aforesaid shall be required to pay to the party or parties entitled thereto the said money deposited with him less his commission for receipting and paying out said money which commission is hereby fixed at one per centum on the first five hundred dollars and one-half per centum for all additional amounts in excess thereof A record of said money receipted for and paid out the commissions retained the name of parties from whom received and to whom paid shall be entered at the number and term of said prosecution or proceeding upon the record of the court by the clerk thereof In case there is no forfeiture or breach of condition of the bail or recognizance entered by the defendant or defendants in the prosecution or proceeding and the same is terminated then upon the order of the court the clerk shall pay said money deposited to the defendant or defendants after the deduction of his commission as hereinbefore provided

BILL OVER IN ORDER.

Mr. LONG. Mr. President, I ask that Senate Bill No. 364, on third reading, entitled:

An Act fixing the salary of sheriffs in counties of the seventh class requiring all fees earned by sheriffs in such counties to be paid into the county treasury for the use of the county and providing for the payment for the care and maintenance of prisoners where the sheriff is the keeper or warden of the jail.

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. CULBERTSON. Mr. President, I just want to say that I would like to accommodate the gentlemen, but I am not the only one interested in the bill, Senator Phipps and Senator Jones are also interested. It has been amended after a great deal of interchange of ideas and for that reason I will have to object.

Mr. LONG. Mr. President, perhaps if I explain my position we may be able to agree. This bill was amended last evening. I represent a county of the seventh class, Adams, and I have not been able to hear from my people with respect to that amendment. I would ask the Senator from Juniata, Mr. Culbertson, to consent to its going over.

The PRESIDENT. Does the Senator from Juniata, Mr. Culbertson, insist on his objection?

Mr. CULBERTSON. Mr. President, let it go over until to-morrow.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE.

ADJOURNMENT.

Mr. CROW. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until to-morrow morning at 10.30 o'clock.

Mr. DAIX. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 12.49 P. M. until Wednesday, March 16, 1921, at 10.30 o'clock A. M.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

TUESDAY, March 15, 1921.

The House met at 11 o'clock A. M.

The SPEAKER (Robert S. Spangler) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. W. H. Feldmann, offered the following prayer:

Almighty and Everlasting Father, we thank Thee that in the days of our extremities when the foes were against us, Thou didst hear our prayer and saved us from the enemy without; and now we beseech Thee that Thou wilt keep us from dangers within.

Our nation has passed through a great season of financial debauch, and there is discontent everywhere. Help us to realize that our safety will rely in coming back to sane, sound and safe principles; that there is no legislative legerdemain whereby we can induce men to have prosperity when they will not have it. Grant, therefore, that these men may become the apostles of economy and thrift, and that they may fearlessly preach the same to their people; and that we may learn to know that it is in what we say that we shall have prosperity and blessing.

Bring us back, then, to the old-fashioned virtues and help us to be a people as we were people, who shall be guided by that which is plain and true and dignified and not assumed by the falseness of the day. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings, when, on the motion of Mr. Dunn, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal was approved.

An Act relating to the indexing of deeds and mortgages in counties of the eighth class, and imposing the expense of such indexing on the county.

Mr. ASTON, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported as committed House Bill No. 4, entitled:

An Act making a deficiency appropriation to the Trustees of the State Hospital of Nanticoke, Nanticoke, Luzerne county, Pennsylvania.

Mr. CAMPBELL, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported as committed House Bill No. 736 (Senate Bill No. 164), entitled:

An Act to amend sections one and three of the act approved the thirteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and seven (Pamphlet Laws six hundred and twenty-one) entitled "An act authorizing and directing the Secretary of Internal Affairs to compile and publish connected warrantee tract maps of each of the several counties of this Commonwealth making an appropriation for the work of compilation and directing the manner of sale and distribution of the same" as amended providing for the making of an atlas for permanent file and for the sale and distribution of blue print copies and providing for the distribution of unsold atlases heretofore published.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 391, entitled:

An act to amend and further amend sections five, seven, fourteen, fifteen, sixteen, nineteen, twenty-one, twenty-two and twenty-six of an act approved the seventh day of June, one thousand nine hundred seventeen (Pamphlet Laws five hundred seventy-two) entitled "An act to provide for the protection and preservation of game, game-quadrupeds and game-birds, and song and insectivorous and other wild birds, and prescribing penalties for violation of its several provisions," sections fourteen and fifteen previously having been amended.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 749, entitled:

An Act to amend an act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred and nine) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Indiana, Mr. Davis, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman as to the needs of the legislation suggested by this bill.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman, I would say that this bill is nothing more nor less than a real business proposition for the various school districts, placing upon the school directors of those districts the necessity of making a complete budget of their expenditures. This does not in any way keep that school district from receiving under the present law the one-half of one per cent to which they are entitled,—of the borrowing capacity,— to get a sufficient fund to take care of any emergency. I am informed that there will be a bill presented at this session of the Legislature increasing that amount to one per cent of the borrowing capacity of the various school districts.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the gentleman I wish to say that I am not informed as yet as to the real purpose of the bill. So far as I read it, it has nothing to do with the borrowing capacity of the school districts.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Tioga, I would suggest that he familiarize himself with the School Code, which is certainly explicit enough as to the borrowing capacity of a school district on the valuation in that particular school district.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I am still in the dark as to the real purpose of this bill.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I do not know how to turn on the light more fully to give the gentleman from Tioga a sufficient candle-power to create in his own intellect a comprehensive understanding of what I have imparted unto him. Therefore, I would again say that if he would familiarize himself with the School Code of this Commonwealth, he would readily understand what I mean.

Mr. WILLIAMS. This has to do with only one section of the School Code, and I do not care to read the whole School Code to find out about one section.

Mr. DAVIS. You will just have to read the one section.

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILLS SIGNED BY THE SPEAKER.

Bills numbered and entitled as follows having been prepared for presentation to the Governor, and the same being correct, the titles were publicly read as follows:

House Bill No. 140.

An Act permitting corporations to change the date of their annual meeting as fixed by its charter

House Bill No. 440.

A joint resolution directing the publication of the pamphlet containing the Game Fish and Forestry Laws

Whereupon,

The SPEAKER, in the presence of the House, signed the same.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 601, entitled:

An Act relating to police pension funds in cities of the third class and directing such cities to appropriate certain moneys thereto

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Dithrich, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DITHRICH. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to know if the setting aside of a certain fund, one per cent. of the taxes collected as this bill specifies, would not put the police in a separate class from the firemen in third-class cities.

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, I cannot answer as to that.

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker, at the present time the firemen in third class cities have provided for a pension fund of their own. This is self-sustaining. I am not opposed to a pension fund for the policemen of third-class cities, but I am opposed to this discrimination in the method by which that is brought about. I am also opposed to the amount of money which would be raised by giving them one per cent. of the total amount of taxes collected, with the minor exceptions as provided in this bill. In the city which I represent it would be entirely beyond the needs, and it would require the reinvestment of that fund from year to year, a thing which I think would be undesirable. For these two reasons I am opposed to the passage of this bill.

Mr. DITHRICH. In answer to the gentleman's interrogation, I have just learned that there is a bill which has been introduced or is to be introduced providing a similar fund for the firemen, so there will be no discrimination between the police and the firemen.

Mr. BOLARD. Mr. Speaker, as I understand this bill its provisions are mandatory that the city must pay one per cent. of its gross tax income outside of the bonded income. As the speaker before me has said, the money appropriated would be entirely too much. I do not believe in the mandatory feature of this bill, but I do believe that it should be left to each city to use its good judgment to get a sufficient fund. But to compel every city alike to pay any such amount of money, it would be entirely too much.

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, the police pension system has been in operation for a number of years in cities of the second class. For a while one per cent. of the taxes, as provided in this bill, was appropriated to the fund, but that was later raised to one and one-half per cent., which amount is appropriated at the present time. Now if this money is appropriated for that purpose, and there are no persons available for pensions, the money is not going to be wasted or squandered. It lies with each municipality to provide what officers shall be pensioned, what amounts paid and what officers of the municipality shall constitute the board having in charge this fund. The money remains with the city and it will be invested as other funds of the city are invested. As I cannot say what amount will be taken, I would simply say that from the experience in second class cities, where it has been in operation, it has been successful, and this is simply applying the principles in use in second-class cities to third-class cities, only on a smaller scale commensurate with the population.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk then read the amendment as follows:

Amend section 1, page 3, line 23, by inserting after "forty" and within the brackets the word "one."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendment at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendment will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

Itwas agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 720, entitled:

An Act to amend paragraph one of section one of an act approved the fifteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred eleven (Pamphlet Laws nine hundred seventy-five) entitled "An act providing for the registration of bottles boxes siphons siphon-heads tins kegs cans soda-fountains cylinders of carbonic acid gas or other containers and forbidding the refilling of or dealing or trafficking in such registered bottles boxes siphons siphon-heads tins cans kegs soda-fountains cylinders of carbonic acid gas or other containers by persons other than the owners thereof without the written consent of the owner and imposing a penalty therefor providing for the issuing of process in the nature of search warrant providing what shall be prima facie proof thereof and providing that the delivery of said bottles boxes siphons siphon-heads tins cans kegs soda-fountains cylinders of carbonic acid gas or other containers shall not constitute a sale thereof"

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

BILL SIGNED BY THE SPEAKER.

Bill numbered and entitled as follows having been prepared for presentation to the Governor, and the same being correct, the title was publicly read as follows,

Senate Bill No. 2.

An Act to fix the salaries of the judges of the Supreme Court and the judges of the Superior Court

Whereupon,

The SPEAKER, in the presence of the House, signed the same.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 260, entitled:

An Act fixing the salary of the jury commissioners of the counties of the third class

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WHITEMAN. Mr. Speaker, this bill proposes to increase the salaries of jury commissioners of counties of the third class from six hundred to twelve hundred dollars per annum. As one of the counties that would be affected by this bill, Westmoreland County, wishes to have its protest registered against it. Westmoreland County is not opposed to a reasonable increase in the salaries of jury commissioners, but it believes that an increase of one hundred per cent. is entirely out of proportion for the services required of the jury commissioners. We trust that the House will take the same view of this bill and vote against it.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

MR. HESS IN THE CHAIR.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 759, entitled:

An Act to repeal section two of an act approved the seventeenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws two hundred and four), entitled "An act to regulate and restrain the hawking, vending, and peddling of fish, fruit, and vegetables, and other merchandise, in the cities of the first class in this Commonwealth."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker, I want to explain to you the provisions of the bill that is about to have your consideration. The Act of 1917 provides that in cities of the first class, licenses for hawking, peddling, vending on the streets of that city can only be issued to citizens of the United States. The bill that you are about to act on repeals that section and permits the authorities to issue licenses for hawking, peddling and vending to citizens and to those that are not citizens. That is all the act does.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nayes were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—2.

Craig, J. R., Harding,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order.

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 741, entitled:

An Act to regulate and establish the traveling expenses and mileage to be charged by sheriffs in counties of the third fourth fifth sixth seventh and eighth classes

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk then read the amendment as follows:

Amend section 1, page 1, line 10, by inserting after "mile" the word "circular."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendment at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendment will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 439, entitled:

An Act to amend section fifteen of an act approved the seventh day of June, one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (P. L. 572) entitled, "An Act to provide for the protection and preservation of game, game-quadrupeds, and game-birds, and song and insectivorous and other wild birds, and prescribing penalties for violation of its several provisions," as amended.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. CHAPLIN. Mr. Speaker, Mr. Wells has introduced this bill for the purpose of having a petition circulated in any of the counties of this Commonwealth signed by two hundred voters. If the bears are obnoxious to the county in which he lives I would suggest that a bill be drawn for the purpose of applying to the county in which the bears are obnoxious. The Game Commission of Pennsylvania spends in each year hundreds of thousands of dollars for the propagation of game including bear. Judge Heck and other county officials from Potter County applied to the Game Commission of Pennsylvania a few years ago for the protection of game in that county. Upon the request of the county officials there the Game Commission has supplied three game sanctuaries. It is a known fact that the bears in Pennsylvania were almost extinct berore the establishment of the resident hunters' license law. There is not any question about the fact that the majority of the sportsmen of Pennsylvania are in sympathy with the protection of bears as well as all other game, and I do believe that they want to be fair to the people of this Commonwealth who are being disturbed personally, and their properties, by any animals, and I would suggest to Mr. Wells at this time to amend this bill to pertain particularly to Potter County. There are other counties in Pennsylvania in which there have been more bears killed than in Potter County. For instance last year in Potter County there were thirty-seven bears killed; in Tioga County forty, Warren forty, Lycoming thirty-seven, Clinton thirty-seven, Sullivan thirty and Cameron twenty-five.

There are in every county in Pennsylvania at least two hundred gunners who would petition to throw open the season for all game. I oppose this bill in its present form, and I hope the gentlemen of this House will sustain me.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I do not like to take issue with my friend back here, Brother Chaplin, but in answer to his argument, I want to say to the members of this House that this bill provides that a petition by two hundred persons interested in agriculture, or in bee production shall file a petition with the Game Commission of the State of Pennsylvania asking that that county shall be opened for the killing of bears. Those are the people that are hurt by this bill. The agricultural interests of the State of Pennsylvania, and especially Potter County, are asking that they be allowed to protect their own property. The sheep damage, the amount of sheep that have been killed in Potter County will offset any sport that the sportsmen of the State of Pennsylvania would care to take care of in dollars and cents. It is an industry in Potter County. Those people are vitally interested in their own interests and we ask you members of the Legislature to protect those interests in the State of Pennsylvania. This only applies to the counties where the damage has actually been done and nobody can petition the Game Department except the agricultural interests, or people who are hurt by the damage from the bears. We believe, Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, that Potter County, or any other county, that has suffered from the destruction by the bears ought to be protected even though we like to go out every once in a while and shoot a bear, and nobody enjoys it better than I do, and I trust the members of this House will protect the sheep industry and the other industries of the State of Pennsylvania by voting for this bill.

Mr. WHITEMAN. Mr. Speaker, this being a bear bill I am going to ask the members of this House to bear with me for a minute while I refer to the provisions in an act which was passed by this House this morning which bear on the bear. The Catlin Bill which was passed unanimously by this House this morning has certain provisions in it relating to the bear. Those provisions include the following: allowing the killing of bears at any time when inflicting or attempting to inflict injury to persons or personal property; allowing the killing of bears if pursued within forty-eight hours after committing depredation no matter where the bear may go; allowing the killing of bears when within one-half mile of a regularly established residence when the occupant has reason to fear injury to persons or personal property even though the bear in question may have no intention of doing any harm whatever but is simply passing through, and finally authorizing the Game Commission to make a special open season in addition to the regular season, fix the bag limit as they may deem necessary, or any other action that may be needed to correct conditions outside of steel traps and deadfalls.

The contention of the Game Commission, Mr. Speaker, a contention with which I agree, is that the Catlin Bill which you passed this morning in this House, provides full protection for Potter County or for any other county which may be afflicted with bears in undue quantity. The Catlin Bill allows two hundred men, two hundred agriculturists, to petition the Game Commission to open the season for bear in a particular county after depredations have been shown to have been committed. The Game Commission would have authority to act in a case of that kind. We deem it entirely unwise Mr. Speaker, to make it possible for two hundred men in any county to petition the Game Commission to open the season for bear and to compel the Game Commission, irrespective of what it may deem to be wise or unwise, to grant that petition. We feel that the Catlin Bill fully meets the situation in Potter County or in any other county.

Mr. WELLS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to call the attention of the members of this House to the reasons for this bill being introduced. Potter County, perhops, is peculiarly situated. The Commission of Forestry has gone into Potter County and purchased large tracts of land in the southern part of the county. The Game Commission in the past four years has put its protecting arms around the bear, until the bears have increased in Potter County so that the farmers in the southern and central parts have been seriously damaged.

Two years ago there was an amendment to the Game Code providing that two hundred citizens might petition the Game Commission in case there was damage by bear, and the Game Commission, if it saw fit, might open that county to the killing of bear. Following that provision two hundred citizens of Potter County petitioned the Game Commission asking for an open season on bear in Potter County. For some reason that petition was ignored. On the first of January of this year, just prior to the meeting of the Game Commission in Harrisburg, I took this matter up with Mr. Gordon, the secretary of the Commission, asking that they act for Potter County on the petition of two hundred citizens as presented during the past year, but again this petition was ignored. After consultation with Senator Baldwin, who lives in the section that is more harmed in the county than my own, we decided there was but one thing for us to do, and that was to ask that upon the petition of two hundred citizens who were engaged in agriculture, in stock raising or bee culture, the Game Commission must open any county, that was afflicted as we are, for the killing of bear, for the period of two years.

I want to say in answer to the gentleman, Mr. Whiteman, that the provisions of the Catlin Bill do not give relief to the farmers of Potter County or any other county affected as we are. I do not believe that the Legislature of Pennsylvania cares more for the few bears that might be protected in Potter County than it does for the agricultural interests of the State.

I say to you gentlemen that it has become a very serious matter for the farmers in Potter County. This bill does not in any way molest any other county in the State, if it does not want to take advantage of it. If the counties in the southern part of the State have no bear, there is no necessity for their asking for this protection or privilege, but I say to you again that the farmers of Potter County need this protection. I trust that the members of this House will assist in giving them that needed protection.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

SENATE MESSAGE.

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, March 15, 1921.

Resolution calling upon the people of this State to display the National Colors annually on "Mother's Day," the second Sunday in May, in honor of the homes of our State and country.

Whereas, The service rendered the United States by the American mother is a supreme source of the country's strength and inspiration; and,

Whereas, We honor ourselves and the mothers of our homes and America when we do anything to give emphasis to the home as the fountain head of the State; and,

Whereas, The American mother has done, and is doing, so much for the home, the moral uplift and religion, hence so much for good government, patriotism and humanity; therefore,

Be it resolved, (if the House of Representatives concurs), That the Governor of this State is hereby authorized and requested to issue annually a proclamation calling upon the State officials to display the United States flag on all State and school buildings, and the people of the State to display the flag at their homes, lodges, churches and places of business, and other suitable places, on the second Sunday in May, known as "Mother's Day," founded by Anna Jarvis, of Philadelphia, as a public expression of love and reverence for the mothers of our State and other women serving it, and as an inspiration for better homes and closer ties between the home and the Commonwealth.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment.

Agreeably to order.

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 115, entitled:

An Act to further amend section six hundred and seventeen of an act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred nine) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" as amended.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. W. W. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman who is the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Bradford, Mr. Harding permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HARDING. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. W. W. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know what the purpose of this bill is to change the school code?

Mr. HARDING. Mr. Speaker, the purpose of this bill is this: Very many business managers of school boards and secretaries of school boards have said to me they were sadly hampered by means of this present arrangment. The school code gives them three hundred dollars ($300) leeway, in case of damage which they must repair, or the buying of certain necessities may be involved, and in that case they can only spend three hundred dollars ($300) according to the present code. If a heating apparatus breaks down that would cost more money they must advertise three consecutive weeks and then award the contract to the lowest bidder. They say this amount of three hundred dollars is too small in the larger districts, and that they have been forced to break the law; that is what they say they will have to do if the law remains as it is. Therefore, to accomodate them and to cover the emergencies the amount of this bill is made $1000 instead of $300; in the fourth class districts the amount is raised from $300 to $500. I understand that there is some criticism on this bill on the grounds that the figure is too high, but we must give credit to the honesty of some school boards, at least, and give them a chance to be honest.

Mr. W. W. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I have the information that it comes from a man who buys school supplies in the city of Scranton and so he puts this up to us.

Mr. HARDING. No, sir, this question has to do with the repairing of buildings first.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Section 7 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with or supplied by this act be and the same are hereby repealed

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I do not know how soon we are going to end the appointing powers of some of the gentlemen who seem to be having at the present time an epidemic in that line. Someone said last night that there were two factions in this House, one faction trying to see how many offices they could make and the other faction trying to see where they could get the money to pay them with. It is still continuing, and it seems to me that in the case of the gentleman who has been elected State Treasurer, it might pay the State of Pennsylvania perhaps to pay him his salary to stay at home. As Auditor General two years ago he came before us and asked for an act of assembly giving him power to appoint clerks to assist the registers of wills to collect the inheritance tax. I know of a number that he has appointed that have been absolutely a waste of money to the State, have been of no use and in the counties in which they have been appointed they have collected less inheritance tax than they did in any one of the four years previous to that. Now he goes into the Treasury Department and has a bill here asking for the appointment of a Deputy Treasurer at a salary of eight thousand dollars a year and his expenses. I do not know where we are going to get to if we keep on at this rate.

The appropriation bill that passed this House the other day on second reading, is now back in the Committee on Appropriations and perhaps some of you have not gone over it as carefully as I have, but if you do, you will find that it exceeds the appropriation of two years ago by nearly twenty millions of dollars, and if we are going to insist on having new officers appointed here and there and everywhere in these departments simply to make and build a political machine, you will be taxing before long not the coal under the ground or the lumber that is cut from the forests, but you will be taxing the air that you breathe in order to pay for this machinery. It has gotten to that point at the present time, where it is almost ridiculous. I hate to be standing here fighting these things continually, but absolutely it seems to me that these different people that are hunting these offices and asking you to make these offices, so that they can fill them with their friends are putting us in a position where they will be holding us up to ridicule after this legislature has adjourned. While I hope that this administration when it started in would be doing what it could and while I have been accused of attacking the Governor I want to say here that if the members of this House would fight these bills as hard as I have you would be doing the Governor a favor rather than fighting him, because if these things continue this administration will go down as the most extravagant administration that this State has ever known. There must be an end to it. I have sat here and voted for bills thinking that perhaps we would reach the end sooner or later, but there does not seem to be any end. Now we come to a matter that everybody knows, that knows anything about the department that it is not necessary, and only two years ago we must remember that the salary of the State Treasurer was increased, and yet with that increase now he wants assistance, and are you going to vote for it? Are you going to keep on saddling these expenses on this Commonwealth? Are you still going to pile up expenses and perhaps two years from now there will be another three or four or five million dollar deficiency in order to take care of them. I believe in doing the things in this Commonwealth that will stand and that are worth while, and those things that are worth while are now knocking at our door and asking for assistance, and I refer you now to the educational program and I refer you now to the other assistance that is here, that we adopted some years ago, and while I was opposed at the time to its adoption, yet we have millions appropriated for it, and I refer to the mothers' assistance fund, and yet we see day by day that the funds of this Commonwealth are being eaten up by men who it seems cannot leave go of the public tit when they once get hold of it, and if that is going to be the case there will be nothing left for the mothers' assistance fund or the teachers' pension fund or the educational program that has been outlined in this matter. I am in hopes and have been in hopes that somebody would present a resolution similar to that which has been presented in Congress, asking for a reorganization of these departments that they might get down to a solid, sound, financial basis in which the government would save money rather than spend it, but instead of that there does not seem to be any thought of economy, but the whole purpose is to see how many offices we can make and how much money we can spend until it has become almost a mania. Gentlemen, I ask every man in this House to use his sober sense. Do not listen to the boss perhaps that is hollering to you to do this for political purposes, but for God's sake remember there are nine million people in this State that need some assistance. Oh, I suppose they will get up and figure for awhile that this eight thousand dollars is an infinitesimal amount to be paid out by each of the nine million people, but if you will notice taxes are rising year after year and a cent here and a cent there and a cent somewhere else means a whole lot. Why spend it when you can do without it and it is not necessary. If Mr. Snyder thinks the work is too much in the Treasury Department, there are just as capable men as he is who can do it and can take care of it. It is just a position which he is asking for in order to take care of some friend of his. Let us get down somewhere to a business basis. My God men, you are running your own businesses and you know something about business. Some of you at least are running your business in a sensible way. Why is it you all become maniacs about spending money when you come into the Legislature? Why is it you forget about your business, and think that the public crib is simply to be opened up and the money scattered haphazardly? I ask you gentlemen to vote against this bill and cut down expenses rather than raise them.

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Delaware has laid emphasis on the fact that we should be business men and conduct the business of this Commonwealth in the way business men conduct their business. Gentlemen of the House, this bill is in line with the suggestion of the gentleman from Delaware. The State Treasurer represents the financial institution of this State, he has charge of its finances. He asks that you, if you were members of a trust company will do for the State what you would do if you were a director of a trust company, namely, provide for a trust officer to take care of those investments which are placed in his hands, in trust, for certain purposes. This bill provides for a deputy treasurer who shall look after those funds and investments which are especially ear-marked in the nature of bonds or collateral securities. It might interest you to know, and at the chance of making you perhaps a little wearisome, I will give you a few figures in existence now in the State Treasury Department. On January first of this year the State of Pennsylvania held from the Insurance Commissioner bonds and mortgages aggregating $4,387,423.12; from the State Workmen's Insurance Fund, bonds and mortgages aggregating $5,233,350.00; from the Banking Commissioner's Department, bonds aggregating $1,187,518.50; from the State Insurance Fund, bonds aggregating $848,500.00; collateral to secure State deposits, bonds aggregating $1,805,000.00; on the State road bond fund, sinking fund, bonds aggregating one and one-half millions of dollars; from the State Board of Education, bonds aggregating $516,150.00; from the Employees' Annuity Savings Funds, bonds aggregating $1,862,500.00; from the annuity reserve fund number two, bonds aggregating $1,414,000.00; from the Battlefield Commission, $1,000.00; Liberty bonds surrendered to the Insurance Commissioner for exchange, approximately $500,000.00; making a total of $19,255,441.62. It also holds surety bonds to the amount of $41,000,000.00. They have also bonds to secure State officers and employees, to be handled by this department instead of by the Public Buildings and Grounds Department. So that the purpose of the office created under this act is to have one in the nature of a trust officer hold that collateral and watch over it and see that that which comes to depositors of the bonds shall get back to them, namely, the coupons and interest attached to it; and also to see that these bonds which are given in the nature of surety bonds, are collected when their time is up or that the premiums are renewed so that no loss comes to the State. It is confidently expected that if this bill passes, within the next two years, not only will the State save the eight thousand dollars provided for in what may be a possible loss, but will furthermore give to the State the sum of three thousand dollars so that at least it is not the creation of an office which is without profit to the State. Reference has been made to the Attorney General and to his department. It may be that in the county of Delaware they live longer than they do in any other county, and therefore they are not able to collect the collateral and direct inheritance taxes that the Auditor General was seeing that we collected from the large and elegant and honest people who died in that county. It may be that that is true in Delaware county, but there are counties where it is not true, and the Auditor General, as a result of the arduous labors which he and his department has placed upon these two taxes, the collateral inheritance tax and the direct inheritance tax, has brought up the receipts of this Commonwealth to that large sum which was reported as of January 1st last, and it was due to his efforts that we were able to make the appropriations we did in the last session and to make them so liberally. From the beginning of this session there has been the same talk that has arisen in every session from away back to 1873,—economy, economy, economy. Every once in awhile there appears in this House a watch-dog of the treasury who barks and barks, and barks,—the same as in every other session, the same bark and the same watch-dog, who barks to the same tune and tenor and who makes exactly the same noise. But in the conglomerate knowledge of this House, the House is lacking ignorance, it is carefully considerate and it has warranted every expenditure we have made to date. We need not worry about the Widows' Pension, about the educational bill, under this bill, because by the time we meet again, in 1923, the State Assistant Treasurer will have been a self-sustaining officer. He has made reference to the conditions that existed during the war, by inference. He suggests to us that we have been through a time of inflation. That may all be true, we will grant that much, and we want to get over the period of inflation, but this is not a bill to inflate. This is a bill to take care of millions of the money in the treasury of this State, to see that we do not lose a penny, and it is merely giving a fair wage for the hire. This bill, I will say to you, has been endorsed by the Governor. It meets with his candid approval, and if you see fit to pass it and it is relayed to the Senate and they should pass it, it will receive the executive signature. I submit it is our duty to see to it that this State does not lose money for the simple refusal to expend eight thousand dollars to pay for a competent man.

Mr. ALEXANDER. I would advise the gentleman who has just spoken to change his stereotyped speech because I notice that the speech he made a little while ago is the same as he made last night in which he referred to the gentleman as using the term "inflation during the war." I never used such a term. He spoke of me being the watch-dog of the treasury. I would rather be that than the fellow running around looking for what little jobs he could get and how well he could stand in with the powers-that-be. I would rather be the watch-dog of the treasury and watch that treasury for the nine millions of people of this State than I would to see how many favors I could curry with the politicians or the boss. As long as I am standing here on the floor of this House as a member, nobody will accuse me or be able to accuse me of sacrificing that trust imposed on me for the purpose of seeing what benefit I personally can get out of it. There is nothing personal in this for me. All I get is knocks from a few people,—that is all I get, but I believe it is my duty and I will stand here in defense of that duty, and Mr. Walker can call me the watch-dog of the treasury if he pleases. I propose to stand here just the same. No matter how much he ridicules it, I will stand here to the last day of the session fighting this kind of measure in every step from now on, and I propose to do it. It is no easy task, I understand, when the jury is packed, to endeavor to try to get a thing over,—I understand that, but I propose to use every effort I possibly can to see that no more of this is done than is possible. The gentleman has given you some fine figures, how much we are going to save the next year. We had the same fine figures on the floor of this House from the Hon. Charles A. Snyder two years ago, if they would only give him the right to appoint clerks in the different registrar of wills, and he cannot show to-day one dollar that these clerks have saved, and I challenge his mouth-piece, Mr. Walker, to point his finger to one thing. The only reason they have overcome the collections in other years is by reason of the fact of the large estate in Pittsburgh from which they collected the inheritance tax during the last year.

You take the counties outside of that, notwithstanding that there has been extravagance and notwithstanding that there is a deficiency of $500,000 besides for the Auditor General to pay his expenses, he has not collected one-tenth of the amount over and above what was collected before with the clerks not one-tenth of the amount that he asks for in the deficiency at this time; and notwithstanding that two years ago there was appropriated to the Auditor General's Department five times more than ever, and here he comes in again to the next appropriation committee asking for even more. Talk about having—saving how? Are you going to save when you are filling these offices with people who are not satisfied when they get a taste of it, but want to keep at the public crib just as long as it is possible to keep there? You gentlemen can do as you please; it won't cost me one cent; I have no interest in it and I am only talking in the interests of the nine millions of people whom you and a part of whom I represent in this House. It is for you, your conscience and your duty as much as it is mine. I have no personal interest in it, but when anybody stands up and endeavors to tell you what a great amount of benefit may result from it, a man with the intelligence of the gentleman from Philadelphia (Mr. James A. Walker) it is an insult to your intelligence, because he knows what he tells you is not the truth; because he knows that the Treasurer to give us protection, has to give bonds for the protection, and that is all bombast and that nobody with any common sense is going to pay any attention to it.

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Delaware has not answered my arguments; he has abused me; but that is not answering the argument. In the argument which he has submitted to you, you are told that it is bombast, and if he calls it bombast, of course, that settles it. He has never yet called a spade anything but a spade. We know it. His words remind me for all the world of a turkey gobbler when he spreads his feathers he makes an elegant impression, but it does not make any more meat. He says that he does not believe in what I say. I wish to say to you that before I presented this bill to you to-day I took the trouble to go over this matter in detail with the State Treasurer to find out why or wherefore this bill should be passed and he has given me reasons which I have given to you. These bonds which I have referred to are bonds which have been sent to the various departments and deposited by the various departments for safekeeping with the Treasurer of this State. This bill particularly calls upon a certain man and says to him, "It is your duty to see to it that every dollar of those bonds is protected." If the market value should fall, you shall call on him who put up the bonds and say to him. "These are not adequate securities; you must give us better securities." If a surety bonds lapse of the premium is not paid, it is his duty to attend to that. He is a man who is under a bond of $500,000 himself to see to it that such a thing does not happen and that no man escapes his liability because a poorly paid clerk has failed to do his duty, and there is nothing extravagant in the bill. There is nothing in this bill which would take a dollar from the gentleman's pocket or my own, and it is an attempt to save money for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. If he wants to favor charities in which he has suddenly become so interested and is so anxious about to prosper, this may in a small way be the means to that object. If he is so anxious about the educational department, I would like to know why a few weeks ago he gave the members and the chairman of that committee a grandiloquent lecture on their folly. If he should aid in the passage of this bill he may possibly be able to help the educational department to secure money, for the bonds of the educational department are deposited in the State Treasury. His abuse is not argument; he has not refuted a single word I have said to you. He has eulogized himself or apologized for himself for his position in this House at this session. His reason for it is found through that door (indicating the door leading to the entrance of the Executive Department) to the next one across the hall. However, I am not interested in his private quarrels, nor am I speaking for the Auditor General, but I am speaking for a bill which has the Executive approval and in regard to which I have a firm conviction that it will save money to the State.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 84, as follows:

An Act making a deficiency appropriation to the trustees of the State Hospital for the Insane at Danville Pennsylvania

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the sum of two hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars ($225,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated to the trustees of the State Hospital for the Insane at Danville, Pennsylvania the same being maintenance deficiency for the biennial period ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 691, as follows:

An Act appropriating to the Department of Health certain moneys received and to be received from the United States Government in the prevention control and treatment of veneral diseases

Whereas The Act of Congress constituting Chapter Fifteen of the acts of the Sixty-fifth Congress entitled "An act making appropriations for the support of the army for the fiscal year ending June thirtieth nineteen hundred and nineteen" and known as the Chamberlain-Kahn Act inter alia appropriates the sum of one million dollars ($1,000,000) to be paid to the various States of the Union for the use of their respective boards or departments of health in the prevention control and treatment of veneral diseases and

Whereas Pursuant to said act and the rules and regulations of the Secretary of the Treasury promulgated thereunder certain payments have been made to the Treasurer of this Commonwealth for the use of the Department of Health for the prevention control and treatment of such diseases and additional payments may be made to said treasurer for such use in the future from the said appropriation or other Congressional appropriations for similar purposes now made or to be made therefore

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That all money heretofore or hereafter received by the Treasurer of this Commonwealth from the United States Government pursuant to the Chamberlain-Kahn Act of Congress entitled "An act making appropriation for the support of the army for the fiscal year ending June thirtieth nineteen hundred and nineteen" and constituting Chapter Fifty-five of the Acts of the Sixty-fifth Congress for the use of the State Department of Health in the prevention control and treatment of veneral diseases or other Congressional appropriations for similar purposes now made or to be made is hereby specifically appropriated to said State Department of Health for such prevention control and treatment

Section 2 All moneys received heretofore or hereafter by the State Treasurer and hereby appropriated to the State Department of Health shall be credited by him to the General Fund of the said department and shall be paid out of the State Treasury in the same manner as other appropriations to the Department of Health are paid

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 855, as follows:

A supplement to an act approved the eighteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Appropriation Acts page one hundred and twenty-six) entitled "An act making an appropriation to the Pennsylvania Training School at Morganza"

"Persons" includes an individual partnership corporation and any other association

"Purchase" includes mortgage and pledge

"Purchaser" includes mortgagee and pledgee

"Seller" means the person who sells or leases the goods covered by the conditional sale or any legal successor in interest of such person

Section 2 Primary Rights of Buyer The buyer shall have the right when not in default to retain possession of the goods and he shall also have the right to acquire the property in the goods on the performance of the conditions of the contract The seller shall be liable to the buyer for the breach of all promises and warranties express or implied made in the conditional sale contract whether or not the property in the goods has passed to the buyer

Section 3 Primary Rights of Seller The buyer shall be liable to the seller for the purchase price or for installments thereof as the same shall become due and for breach of all promises made by him in the conditional sale contract whether or not the property in the goods has passed to the buyer

Section 4 Conditional Sales Valid Except as Otherwise Provided Every provision in a conditional sale reserving property in the seller after possession of the goods is delivered to the buyer shall be valid as to all persons except as hereinafter otherwise provided

Section 5 Conditional Sales Void as to Certain Persons Every provision in a conditional sale reserving property in the seller shall be void as to any purchaser from or creditor of the buyer who without notice of such provision purchases the goods or acquires by attachment or levy a lien upon them before the contract or a copy thereof shall be filed as hereinafter provided unless such contract or copy is so filed within ten days after the making of the conditional sale

Section 6 Place of Filing The conditional sale contract or copy shall be filed in the office of the prothonotary in the county in which the goods are first kept for use by the buyer after the sale It shall not be necessary to the validity of such conditional sale contract or in order to entitle it to be filed that it be acknowledged or attested This section shall not apply to the contracts described in section eight

Section 7 Fixtures If the goods are so affixed to realty at the time of a conditional sale or subsequently as to become a part thereof and not to be sevarable wholly or in any portion without material injury to the freehold the reservation of property as to any portion not so severable shall be void after the goods are so affixed as against any person who has not expressly assented to the reservation If the goods are so affixed to realty at the time of a conditional sale or subsequently as to become part thereof but to be severable without material injury to the freehold the reservation of property shall be void after the goods are so affixed as against subsequent purchasers of the realty for value and without notice of the conditional seller's title unless the conditional sale contract or a copy thereof together with a statement signed by the seller briefly describing the realty and stating that the goods are or are to be affixed thereto shall be filed before such purchase in the office where a deed of the realty would be recorded or registered to affect such realty As against the owner of realty the reservation of the property in goods by a conditional seller shall be void when such goods are to be so affixed to the realty as to become part thereof but to be severable without material injury to the freehold unless the conditional sale contract or a copy thereof together with a statement signed by the seller briefly describing the realty and stating that the goods are to be affixed thereto shall be filed before they are affixed in the office where a deed would be recorded or registered to affect such realty

Section 8 Railroad Equipment or Rolling Stock No conditional sale of railroad or street or interurban railway equipment or rolling stock shall be valid as against the purchasers and creditors described in section five unless the contract shall be acknowledged by the buyer or attested in like manner as a deed of real property and the contract or a copy thereof shall be filed or recorded in the office of the recorder of deeds of the county wherein the same is located and unless when any engine or car so sold is delivered there shall then be plainly and conspicuously marked upon each side thereof the name of the seller followed by the word "owner"

Section 9 Conditional Sale of Goods for Resale When goods are delivered under a conditional sale contract and the seller expressly or impliedly consents that the buyer may resell them prior to performance of the condition the reservation of property shall be void against purchasers from the buyer for value in the ordinary course of business and as to them the buyer shall be deemed the owner of the goods even though the contract or a copy thereof shall be filed according to the provisions of this act

Section 10 Filing The filing officer shall mark upon the contract or copy filed with him the day and hour of filing and shall file the contract or copy in his office for public inspection He shall keep a separate book in which he shall enter the names of the seller and buyer the date of the contract the day and hour of filing a brief description of goods the price named in the contracts and the date of cancellation thereof except that in entering the contracts mentioned in section eight the recorder of deeds shall record either the sum remaining to be paid upon the contract or the price of the goods Such book shall be indexed under the names of both seller and buyer For filing and entering such contract or copy the filing officer shall be entitled to a fee of fifty cents except that for filing and entering a contract described in section eight the recorder of deeds shall be entitled to the same fee as he is now allowed by law for similar services

Section 11 Refiling The filing of conditional sale contracts provided for in sections five six and seven shall be valid for a period of three years only The filing of the contract provided for by section eight shall be valid for a period of fifteen years only The validity of the filing may in each case be extended for successive additional periods of one year from the date of refiling by filing in the proper filing district a copy of the original contract within thirty days next preceding the expiration of each period with a statement attached signed by the seller showing that the contract is in force and the amount remaining to be paid thereon Such copy with statement attached shall be filed and entered in the same manner as a contract or copy filed and entered for the first time and the filing officer shall be entitled to a like fee as upon the original filing

Section 12 Cancellation of Contract After the performance of the condition upon written demand delivered personally or by registered mail by the buyer or any other person having an interest in the goods the seller shall execute acknowledge and deliver to the demandant a statement that the condition in the contract has been performed If for ten days after such demand the seller fails to mail or deliver such a statement of satisfaction he shall forfeit to the defendant five dollars and be liable for all damages suffered Upon presentation of such statement of satisfaction the filing officer shall file the same and note the cancellation of the contract and the date thereof on the margin of the page where the contract has been entered For filing and entering the statement of satisfaction the filing officer shall be entitled to a fee of thirty cents except that the recorder of deeds shall be entitled to a fee of fifty cents for filing and entering a statement of the satisfaction of a contract described in section eight

Section 13 Prohibition of Removal or Sale Without Notice Unless the contract otherwise provides the buyer may without the consent of the seller remove the goods from any filing district and sell mortgage or otherwise dispose of his interest in them but prior to the performance of the condition no such buyer shall remove the goods from a filing district in which the contract or a copy thereof is filed except for temporary uses for a period of not more than thirty days unless the buyer not less than ten days before such removal shall give the seller personally or by registered mail written notice of the place to which the goods are to be removed and the approximate time of such intended removal not prior to the performance of the condition shall the buyer sell mortgage or otherwise dispose of his interest in the goods unless he or the person to whom he is about to sell mortgage or otherwise dispose of the same shall notify the seller in writing personally or by registered mail of the name and address of the person to whom his interest in the goods is about to be sold mortgaged or otherwise transferred not less than ten days before such sale mortgage or other disposal If any buyer does so remove the goods or does so sell mortgage or otherwise dispose of his interest in them without such notice or in violation of the contract the seller may retake possession of the goods and deal with them as in case of default in payment of part or all of the purchase price The provisions of this section regarding the removal of goods shall not apply however to the goods described in section eight

Section 14 Refiling on Removal When prior to the performance of the condition the goods are removed by the buyer from a filing district in this State to another filing district in this state in which such contract or a copy thereof is not filed or are removed from another state into a filing district in this state where such contract or copy is not filed the reservation of the property in the seller shall be void as to the purchasers and creditors described in section five unless the conditional sale contract or a copy thereof shall be filed in the filing district to which the goods are removed within ten days after the seller has received notice of the filing district to which the goods have been removed The provisions of this section shall not apply however to the goods described in section eight The provisions of section eleven regarding the duration of the validity of the filing and the necessity for refiling shall apply to contracts or copies which are filed in a filing district other than that where the goods are originally kept for use by the buyer after the sale

Section 15 Fraudulent Injury Concealment Removal or Sale When prior to the performance of the condition the buyer maliciously or with intent to defraud shall injure destroy or conceal the goods or remove them to a filing district where the contract or a copy there is not filed without having given the notice required by section thirteen or shall sell mortgage or otherwise dispose of such goods under claim of full ownership he shall be guilty of a crime and upon conviction thereof shall be imprisoned in the county jail for not more than one year or be fined not more than five hundred dollars or both

Section 16 Retaking Possession When the buyer shall be in default in the payment of any sum due under the contract or in the performance of any other condition which the contract requires him to perform in order to obtain the property in the goods or in the performance of any promise the breach of which is by the contract expressly made a ground for the retaking of the goods the seller may retake possession thereof Unless the goods can be retaken without breach of the peace they shall be retaken by legal process but nothing herein shall be construed to authorize a violation of the criminal law

Section 17 Notice of Intention to Retake Not more than forty nor less than twenty days prior to the retaking the seller if he so desires may serve upon the buyer personally or by registered mail a notice of intention to retake the goods on account of the buyer's default The notice shall state the default and the period at the end of which the goods will be retaken and shall briefly and clearly state what the buyer's rights under this act will be in case they are retaken If the notice is so served and the buyer does not perform the obligations in which he has made defualt before the day set for retaking the seller may take the goods and hold them subject to the provisions of sections nineteen twenty twenty-one twenty-two and twenty-three regarding the sale but without any right of redemption

Section 18 Redemption If the seller does not give the notice of intention to retake described in section seventeen he shall retain the goods for ten days after the retaking within the state in which they were located when retaken during which period the buyer upon payment or tender of the amount due under the contract at the time of retaking and interest or upon performance or tender of performance of such other condition as may be named in the contract as precedent to the passage of the property in the goods or upon performance or tender of performance of any other promise for the breach of which the goods were retaken and upon payment of the expenses of retaking keeping and storage may redeem the goods and become entitled to take possession of them and to continue in the performance of the contract as if no default had occurred Upon written demand delivered personally or by registerd mail by the buyer the seller shall furnish to the buyer a written statement of the sum due under the contract and the expense of retaking keeping and storage For failure to furnish such statement within a reasonable time after demand the seller shall forfeit to the buyer ten dollars and also be liable to him for all damages suffered because of such failure If the goods are perishable so that retention for ten days as herein prescribed would result in their destruction or substantial injury the provisions of this section shall not apply and the seller may resell the goods immediately upon their retaking The provision of this section requiring the retention of goods within the state during the period allowed for redemption shall not apply to the goods described in section eight

Section 19 Compulsory Resale by Seller If the buyer does not redeem the goods within ten days after the seller has retaken possession and the buyer has paid at least fifty per centum of the purchase price at the time of the retaking the seller shall sell them at public auction in the state where they were at the time of the retaking such sale to be held not more than thirty days after the retaking The seller shall give to the buyer not less than ten days' written notice of the sale either personally or by registered mail directed to the buyer at his last known place of business or residence The seller shall also give notice of the sale by at least three notices posted in different public places within the filing district where the goods are to be sold at least five days before the sale If at the time of the retaking five hundred dollars or more has been paid on the purchase price the seller shall also give notice of the sale at least five days before the sale by publication in a newspaper published or having a general circulation within the filing district where the goods are to be sold The seller may bid for the goods at the resale If the goods are of the kind described in section eight the parties may fix in the conditional sale contract the place where the goods shall be resold

Section 20 Resale at Option of Parties If the buyer has not paid at least fifty per cent of the purchase at the time of the retaking the seller shall not be under a duty to resell the goods as prescribed in section nineteen unless the buyer serves upon the seller within ten days after the retaking a written notice demanding a resale delivered personaly or by registered mail If such notice is served the resale shall take place within thirty days after the service in the manner at the place and upon the notice prescribed in section nineteen The seller may voluntarily resell the goods for account of the buyer on compliance with the same requirements

Section 21 Process of Resale The proceeds of the resale shall be applied (1) to the payment of the expenses thereof (2) to the payment of the expenses of retaking keeping and storing the goods (3) to the satisfaction of the balance due under the contract Any sum remaining after the satisfaction of such claims shall be paid to the buyer

Section 22 Deficiency on Resale If the proceeds of the resale are not sufficient to defray the expenses thereof and also the expenses of retaking keeping and storing the goods and the balance due upon the purchase price the seller may recover the deficiency from the buyer or from any one who has succeeded to the obligations of the buyer

Section 23 Rights of Parties Where There is no Resale Where there is no resale the seller may retain the goods as his own property without obligation to account to the buyer except as provided in section twent-five and the buyer shall be discharged of all obligation

Section 24 Election of Remedies After the retaking of possession as provided in section sixteen the buyer shall be liable for the price only after resale and only to the extent provided in section twent-two Neither the bringing of an action by the seller for the recovery of the whole or any part of the price nor the recovery of judgment in such action nor the collection of a portion of the price shall be deemed inconsistent with a later retaking of the goods as provided in section sixteen But such right of retaking shall not be exercised by the seller after he has collected the entire price or after he has claimed a lien upon the goods or attracted them or levied upon them as the goods of the buyer

Section 25 Recovery of Part Payments If the seller fails to comply with the provisions of sections eighteen nineteen twenty twenty-one and twenty-three after retaking the goods the buyer may recover from the seller his actual damages if any and in no event less than one-fourth of the sum of all payments which have been made under the conract with interest

Section 26 Waiver of Statutory Protection No act or agreement of the buyer before or at the time of the making of the contract nor any agreement or statement by the buyer in such contract shall constitute a valid waiver of the provisions of sections eighteen nineteen twenty- twenty-one and twenty-five except that the contract may stipulate that on such default of the buyer as is provided for in section sixteen the seller may rescind the conditional sale either as to all the goods or as to any part thereof for which a specific price was fixed in the contract If the contract thus provides for rescission the seller at his option may retake such goods without complying with or being bound by the provisions of sections seventeen to twenty-five inclusive as to the goods retaken upon crediting the buyer with the full purchase price of those goods So much of this credit as is necessary to cancel any indebtedness of the buyer to the seller shall be so applied and the seller shall repay to the buyer on demand any surplus not so required

Section 27 Loss and Increase After the delivery of the goods to the buyer and prior to the retaking of them by the seller the risk of injury and loss shall rest upon the buyer The increase of the goods shall be subject to the same conditions as the original goods

Section 28 Act Prospective Only This act shall not apply to conditional sales made prior to the time when it takes effect

Section 29 Rules for Cases not Provided for In any case not provided for in this act the rules of law and equity including the law merchant and in particular those relating to principal and agent and to the effect of fraud misrepresentation duress or coercion mistake bankruptcy or other invalidating cause shall continue to apply to conditional sales

Section 30 Uniformity of Interpretation This act shall be so interpreted and construed as to effectuate its general purpose to make uniform the law of those states which enact it

Section 31 Short Title This act may be cited as the Uniform Conditional Sale Act

Section 32 Inconsistent Laws Repealed Except so far as they are applicable to conditional sales made prior to the time when this act takes effect the following act shall be and is hereby repealed to wit

HOUSE MESSAGES.

HOUSE CONCURS IN RESOLUTION CALLING UPON THE PEOPLE OF THIS STATE TO DISPLAY THE NATIONAL COLORS ANNUALLY ON "MOTHER'S DAY" THE SECOND SUNDAY IN MAY, IN HONOR OF THE HOMES OF OUR STATE AND COUNTRY.

The Clerk of the House of Representatives, being introduced, presented communication from the House of Representatives, informing the Senate, that the House has concurred in resolution from the Senate, as follows:

In the Senate, March 15, 1921.

Whereas, The service rendered the United States by the American mother is a supreme source of the country's strength and inspiration; and,

Whereas, We honor ourselves and the mothers of our homes and America when we do anything to give emphasis to the home as the fountain head of the state; and,

Whereas, The American mother has done, and is doing, so much for the home, the moral uplift and religion, hence so much for good government, patriotism and humanity; therefore,

Be It Resolved (if the House of Representatives concurs), That the Governor of this State is hereby authorized and requested to issue annually a proclamation calling upon the state officials to display the United States flag on all state and school buildings, and the people of the state to display the flag at their homes, lodges, churches and places of business, and other suitable places, on the second Sunday in May, known as "Mother's Day," founded by Anna Jarvis, of Philadelphia, as a public expression of love and reverence for the mothers of our state and other women serving it, and as an inspiration for better homes and closer ties between the home and the Commonwealth.

ADJOURNMENT.

Mr. SERVICE. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Monday evening, March 21, at 9 o'clock.

Mr. MURDOCK. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 12.55 P. M. until Monday, March 21, 1921, at 9 o'clock P. M.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

WEDNESDAY, March 16, 1921.

The House met at 11 o'clock A. M.

The SPEAKER (Robert S. Spangler) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. W. H. Feldmann, offered the following prayer:

O Thou who art the same yesterday, today and forever, emblazon on our hearts, we beseech Thee, the truth that is empaneled on the ceiling of this House; and may there come to us the consciousness that it has the breath of immortality in it. May our minds and lives so be linked to this great fact that we shall unreservedly trust it in every issue, and be satisfied that it will be a blessed arbitrator in all the affairs that concern us as individuals and as a State. And may we indeed so rest assured thereon that we shall never resort to the cheap devices of trickery and subterfuge, but in every issue trust that it will bring, both to us and to all concerned, the one result that is worth while. And may we go forth with the consciousness that when we are wed to this greath truth, we are indeed anchored in the great certainty of eternity itself. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings, when on the motion of Mr. Goodnough, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

An Act to amend an act approved the twenty-sixth day of April one thousand eight hundred and fifty-five (Pamphlet Laws three hundred and nine) entitled "An act relating to damages for injuries producing death" as amended by extending the provisions thereof to brothers and sisters and other dependent next of kin

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section one of an act approved the twenty-sixth day of April one thousand eight hundred and fifty-five (Pamphlet Laws three hundred and nine) entitled "An act relating to damages for injuries producing death" which as amended by the act approved the seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws six hundred and seventy-eight) entitled "An act to amend section one of an act entitled 'An act relating to damages for injuries producing death' approved the twenty-sixth day of April Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and fifty-five so as to provide that certain surviving relatives of the deceased may recover damages whether such surviving relatives be citizens of this Commonwealth or not" reads as follows

"Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the persons entitled to recover damages for any injuries causing death shall be the husband widow children or parents of the deceased and no other relatives and that such husband widow children or parents of the deceased shall be entitled to recover whether he she or they be citizens or residents of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or citizens or residents of any other state or place subject to the jurisdiction of the United States or of any foreign country or subjects of any foreign potentate and the sum recovered shall go to them in the proportion they would take his or her personal estate in case of intestacy and that without liability to creditors under the laws of this Commonwealth" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the persons entitled to recover damages for any injuries causing death shall be the husband widow children parents or brothers and sisters of the deceased and to other relatives and that such husband widow children parents or brothers and sisters of the deceased shall be entitled to recover whether he she or they be citizens or residents of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or citizens or residents of any other state or place subject to the jurisdiction of the United States or of any foreign country or subject of any foreign potentate and the sum recovered shall go to them in the proportion they would take his or her personal estate in case of intestacy and that without liability to creditors under the laws of this Commonwealth

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Dithrich, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Md. EDMONDS. I would like to ask what change this bill makes in the existing law?

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, under the existing law recovery is confined to a husband, a widow, children and parents, and with the amended bill it includes brothers and sisters of the deceased and to other relatives who are dependent.

Mr. EDMONDS. That phrase "who are dependent" has been left out and it looks to me that it gives brothers and sisters and others the right to recovery whether they are relatives or not.

Mr. DITHRICH. Under the Supreme Court a dependent must be a member of the family and there can be no recovery otherwise. "Other dependents" has been stricken from the bill. By the amendment the provision is made now only for brothers and sisters which must be proven.

Mr. EDMONDS. Is there not a mistake on line 22, page 1645, which says, following line 21, after "children and parents, or brothers and sisters of the deceased and to other relatives?" It seems to me that "other relatives" should mean "no other other relatives."

Mr. DITHRICH. On what page is that?

Mr. EDMONDS. On page 1645, line 22.

Mr. DITHRICH. That should be "no other relatives."

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, I move that further consideration of this bill be postponed.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 582, as follows:

An Act providing for the apportionment of warfage and dockage on the River Delaware and its tributaries except in cities of the first class

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That in all cases when the owner or owners of adjoining wharves docks landings or river front or any part thereof upon the River Delaware or its tributaries and not situated in cities of the first class shall disagree as to the proper apportionment of the wharfage or dockage payable to them in accordance with their titles by persons making use of the same or by vessels lying in front thereof it shall be the duty of the Board of Commissioners of Navigation for the River Delaware and its tributaries upon the written application of one or more to such owners and after notice to the parties interested and in accordance with the established customs and usages of the port or place where such wharves docks landings or river front are located or where there is no such usage then as justice and equity may require to determine the relative proportions of such wharfage or dockage belonging to the several proprietors of said adjoining wharves docks landings or river front or any parts thereof Provided That nothing herein shall be construed to authorize such Board of Commissioners to take cognizance of any question involving the title of such property but such jurisdiction and the power to enforce the rights of the owners of said wharves docks landings and water front to wharfage and dockage from persons or vessels heretofore or hereafter using or lying opposite the same shall remain as heretofore in the proper courts of law

Section 2 Any person may appeal from a decision of the Board of Commissioners of Navigation for the River Delaware and its tributaries to the court of common pleas of the county wherein such wharves docks landings or water front are located

Section 3 All acts or parts of acts general local or special inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 640, as follows:

An Act authorizing the appointment of interpreters by the several courts in counties of the first and second class and providing for their compensation

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the courts of common pleas of each county of the first class are authorized to appoint such number of interpreters and in such languages as the courts deem necessary for the proper transaction of their business Such interpreters shall act in the courts of common pleas and in the courts of quarter sessions Interpreters so appointed may be removed by the courts appointing them at any time The annual salary of each of the interpreters so appointed shall be three thousand five hundred dollars to be paid out of the county treasury Before assuming the duties of the office each interpreter shall take and subscribe the oath prescribed by the Constitution of this Commonwealth

Section 2 The act approved the seventh day of July one thousand nine hundred nineteen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred twenty-five) entitled "An act authorizing the appointment of interpreters in each county of this Commonwealth and providing for their compensation" is hereby repealed in so far as it relates to counties of the first class

All other acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act are repealed

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, I ask that further consideration of this bill be postponed.

Mr. J. W. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up from page 6 of today's calendar, bills on third reading postponed, House Bill No. 708, file folio 925.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. EDMONDS,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 708, entitled:

An Act concerning the proof of statutes of other jurisdictions and to make uniform the law with reference thereto

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend section 1, lines 5, 6, 7 and 8 by striking out the following: "any of the United States or the territories thereof or of any foreign jurisdiction and to have been printed and published by the authority of any such state, territory" and insert in lieu thereof the following: "the session or other statutes of the United States, of any of the terriories or possesions thereof, of any state of the United States or of any foreign country or of any jurisdiction outside of Pennsylvania and to have been printed and published by the authority of any such government, territory, possession, state, foreign country"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendment at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendment will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up from page 6 of to-day's calendar, bills on third reading postponed, House Bill No. 709, file folio 927.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. EDMONDS,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 709, entitled:

An Act concerning the taking of depositions in this State to be used in any foreign jurisdiction and to make uniform the law with reference thereto

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend section 1, lines 5 and 6, by striking out the following: "in any other state territory district or foreign jurisdiction" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "of the United States or of any of its territories or possessions or of any state of the United States or of any foreign country or of any jurisdiction outside of Pennsylvania."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendment at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendment will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up from page 2 of to-day's calendar, bills on final passage, House Bill No. 818, file folio 1643, entitled:

An act to amend an act approved the twenty-sixth day of April, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-five (P. L. 309), entitled, "An act relating to damages for injuries producing death," by extending the provisions thereof to brothers and sisters and other dependents next of kin.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 818.

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed on third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. VICKERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk then read the amendment as follows:

Amend section 1, line 22, by striking out the word "to" after the word and, and inserting in lieu thereof the word "no."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendment at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendment will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 339, entitled:

An Act to amend clause (c) section 306 of an act approved the second day of June one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (P. L. 736) entitled "An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employe in the course of employment establishing an elective schedule of compensation and providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GOEHRING. Mr. Speaker, on page 3 and 4, "sixty" is underlined in the phrase "sixty per centum of wages." I wish to say that that is not an increase on the present Workmen's Compensation Act. Under the present act there is no compensation to any employe receiving any disfigurement of the head or face. In other words, if a man has an ear or his nose taken off or his hair torn off, or if his face is disfigured, under the present Workmen's Compensation Act he does not get a nickel. This is to allow a man compensation for that which he prizes very highly as a part of his person. It has been submitted to many insurance men and to claim agents in the State, and at the present time they ratify it. They say that the employe is entitled to that. I ask your unanimous support for this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. HEFFERNAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. HEFFERNAN. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, tonight as you know is the big night of the session. Tonight will be your banquet of the Legislative Sons of St. Patrick. I would just like to say a word or two so that there will be no confusion. Tonight at eight o'clock you will all be expected to be presented at the Chestnut Street Auditorium. About eight-thirty tonight the proceedings will begin. I will ask that you all bring your tickets with you to present them to the officers at the door because it will be very necessary for you to have them in order to get in.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the committee has worked very hard on this banquet and it will all depend on the members themselves how successful it will be. I would ask that each and every man be there at eight o'clock because there are no tables or seats reserved, you simply take the first seat that you meet that you desire, so that I would ask that you all be there promptly at eight o'clock so that we can begin our night's affair on time.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the sponsor of the bill?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Walker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman kindly explain the change that is made in the existing law by this proposed bill?

Mr. JAMES WALKER. Mr. Speaker, there is practically no change made in the existing law under the terms of this bill. In 1919 it was discovered that there were operating in this State a number of co-partnerships under the guise of what is known as a common law trust agreement, or they are also known as the Massachusetts trust plan. Under those agreements four or five men will enter into an agreement perpetuating themselves as trustees, and every one of those who come into their association signs an agreement that he will abide by the terms of that trust. As the result of the operations of those associations, and they operate almost entirely on the same plan as a building and loan association, it was discovered that about seventy per cent. of the receipts were used for the payment of commissions and large salaries and other expenses so that those who paid their money into the association or co-partnership received practically no return. It was also discovered that they had a manner of manipulating their accounts and series so that the stockholders, if we may call them such, did not receive the proper borrowing capacity which they expected to receive. Therefore, in 1919, at the request of the Deputy Banking Commission, Captain Morrison, Mr. Simpson, of Allegheny, introduced a bill which attempted to correct that evil. It has been discovered since that time that some of those co-partnerships have evaded the law and entered into a corporation, and they signed an agreement of trust on the common law trust plan, so that they could evade the provisions of that law which applied only to co-partnerships. The purpose of this bill, which was prepared by the Banking Commissioner, is to capture all those rascals that are taking money from the people and are giving no return, but are using it merely to line their own pockets and the pockets of their friends.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,
The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 634, entitled:

An Act fixing the salaries of the directors of the poor of county poor districts in counties of the fourth class

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GEORGE F. WALKER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I am opposed to this bill for the several reasons: In the first place the salary paid the Directors of the Poor in our county, $1,500.00 per year is sufficient for the amount of time they have to put in to fulfill the duties of the office, and they are better paid in proportion to the time necessary to transact the business connected with it than any other of the county offices. We have now and always do have very efficient officials to fill this position and I have the first complaint to hear yet either as to their ability to fill the office or the insufficiency of the salary connected with it. The duties of the office require so little time that it does not interfere with the usual occupation of those elected and I venture to assert would not average one hour per day the year around. The very fact that there are always a number of candidates, ones who are well qualified to fill the office for every election or vacancy on the Board is the best indication that the salary is all right.

The fact that the office of Director of the Poor in a majority of the counties of the State, some of which have a population of over half that of the counties of the fourth class, is filled by the County Commissioners who assume these duties in addition to their own, is prima facia evidence that they are not very strenuous.

The claim is made by the advocates of this bill from Schuylkill County that their conditions are different from the other counties of this class, and that according to the present law they are only entitled to $2.00 per day for their services. It does seem strange that if there is a law of that kind, that other counties of the Commonwealth have been able to give adequate salaries to their Directors, it came out in the hearing before the Committee on Counties and Townships that the Directors of Schuylkill County were getting at present $1,200.00 per year through some persons influence, and also the fact that there had been a special act passed during the last session of the Legislature making the salary for this office in Schuylkill County $2,500.00 per year, and showing the sentiment of the voters of this same county who did not approve of the raise and investigating committee, Tax Payers League, or some organization of that kind had the matter looked into and had the salary reduced, now gentlemen don't that action by the voters of their own county show conclusively what their own people think of the raise. I am not disposed to oppose the increasing of salaries of county or State officials when they are justifiable, but I am in cases of this kind where it is merely to satisfy the claim of the office holder, or for the benefit of some political ring or machine.

The $1,000.00 additional per year would amount to $12,000.00 for the term of four years and taking the eight or nine fourth class counties of the States would run well up to $100,000 a sum sufficient to build five miles of State aid improved roads, give a bonus to several hundred underpaid school teachers, or could be used to very good advantage for the benefit of the inmates of these charitable institutions. Did any of you ever know of a public official's salary being reduced after it was once raised unless it was as in this case by a dissatisfied public?

Is it fair to the balance of the counties of this class to impose this needless expense for the ake of one or two dissatisfied ones? We all know that the population rapidly increasin gin counties of the fifth and sixth classes will soon place them in the fourth class and then they will be handicapped with this additional unnecessary burden. The salaries of this office in counties where they are elected range from $200.00 per year to $1,500.00, only one or two paying that much. Lancaster County only pays its Directors $500.00 per year, and it is a fourth class county.

Gentlemen, I have a list of the counties of the third and fourth classes. Some of these are third class counties, Berks, Westmoreland, Fayette, Luzerne and Montgomery pay fifteen hundred dollars; York, fourth class county, one thousand dollars; Erie, seven hundred and twenty dollars; Lancaster, five hundred dollars; Schuylkill, twelve hundred dollars, and Dauphin, one thousand dollars.

Now gentlemen of the House, the trouble with us as members of the Legislature is that when bills of this nature come before us unless it actually affects our own particular counties, we are apt to let them slide through as reported out, but don't they concern every one of us either directly or indirectly? The example we set to other smaller counties, the hardship it makes for the already burdened tax payer, do we ever stop to consider how these additional salaries are to be met? It means added taxes. There is no other way out of it. This money has to be provided and the hardship of raising it in the last analysis comes off the poor man, the man who rents a house or is struggling along to pay for his own little home while taxes are an ever increasing burden. The landlord or the merchant can raise his rents, or his merchandise, but not so the other less favored ones and they are the vast majority, the rank and file of our country.

We have a committee in our House of Representatives that for a high sounding title is certainly lofty. I refer to that of Retrenchment and Reform. If it ever had a bill referred to it before this term history has not recorded it. I know there were none during the last session as I was one of the hard working members of it. I do not know how the present chairman managed to land two or three this session unless it was by the aid of the sergeant at arms, but what I was going to suggest, if a lot of the bills of this nature were referred to this committee when it was functioning properly, very few of them would see the light of day and His Excellency the Governor, with his blue pencil, would not be overworked.

The remedy, gentlemen, as I see it for the present conditions in Schuylkill County is to agree to a bill paying $1,500.00 as we do in some of the other counties and I will venture to predict they will find enough good citizens in their county who would be willing to sacrifice themselves as martyrs to the lower salary and as an office of this character is never forced on a man against his will, he would at least have the chance to turn down the offer.

Gentlemen, I hope you will vote against this bill, as it is without merit and an imposition on all affected by it.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. STARK. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk then read the amendments as follows:

Amend title page 1 line 15 by striking out the words "for penalty"

Amend title page 2 line 1 by inserting after "providing" the words "penalty for"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 812, entitled:

An act to permit any corporation with capital stock and transacting business of life insurance on the mutual plan, or any life insurance corporation having capital stock, incorporated under the provisions of any general or special law of this Commonwealth, to acquire its capital stock for the benefit of its policyholders and to convert such corporation into a mutual life insurance corporation and to provide a method therefor.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question.

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 704, (Senate Bill No. 243), entitled:

An Act fixing the salaries of mine inspectors in this Commonwealth and the expenses incident to the office

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask, is there any sponsor of this bill in this House whom we can interrogate?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Edmonds, desires to interrogate the sponsor of this bill. It is a Senate bill.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker,I desire to state that it is a salary bill fixing certain salaries at $4800. I would like to know how many people that applies to and what their present salary is, and what their duties are.

Mr. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, this increases the salaries of the mining inspectors. The salary of mining inspectors is $3500, and I know that the mining inspectors have received no increase in salary for a good many years. The bill was here last session, but because of the war it was not considered. In many cases we know that the mine foremen in the anthracite coal fields are receiving much more salary than the mine inspector. We know that the mine foremen in many cases are receiving more than $300 per month, while the mine inspectors are now receiving $291 per month. He has a great deal more expense than the mine foreman. In passing an examination before a board he must stand a higher class of examination than the mine foreman. In many cases in the anthracite field an inspector is also forced to go before the people for his election. In the anthracite field it is an elective office while in the bituminous fields it is an appointive office. We, the miners especially, believe that the mine inspectors are really entitled to more wages than they are getting now, as we know that superintendents of mines and mine foremen are receiving much more than the mine inspectors are receiving now, and we know, besides that we must have the highest grade of men to go in and examine the coal mines.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know how many men it applies to.

Mr. FOWLER. Off hand, I cannot tell you that right now.

Mr. SHAFFER. Mr. Speaker, fifty-four.

Mr. EDMONDS. I desire to know, does that include any expenses that they have to pay—traveling expenses?

Mr. FOWLER. They have to pay their own expenses.

Mr. EDMONDS. Is there any extra allowance for traveling expenses?

Mr. FOWLER. Not that I know of. As this question was taken up with the Governor several times in the 1919 session, it is not new, but it was not pressed then because of the war.

Mr. EDMONDS. Will the gentleman from Lackawanna (Mr. Fowler) object to having this bill placed on the postponed calendar?

Mr. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker,I desire to say that I am not the sponsor of the bill.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the postponed calendar.

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GIBBON. Mr. Speaker, this bill provides for paying mine inspectors, who are employed in the coal regions, a fair and legitimate salary. The salary which the bill is asking for is not at all exorbitant; they are not getting salaries commensurate with the service required. To be a mine inspector a man must first of all be a miner, then qualify as a mine foreman, and then take an examination for mine inspector which is a very rigid examination, and he must be a high grade man, thoroughly familiar with mining under his charge and under his care rest the responsibility and safety of all the miners in his district. His job is not the same as the ordinary inspectors' jobs or the same as the ordinary political job. He must go into the mines and examine all the works. His is a very dangerous occupation and he is entitled to what is being asked for him, $4800.

Mr. CHRISTIAN MILLER. Mr. Speaker, I did not intend to have much to say on this bill until apparently I saw opposition to it. I will speak as a man who has had practical experience. I have worked fifteen years as a miner and twenty-one years as a mine foreman. I know the duties that are incumbent upon the mine inspectors. While a mine foreman is only responsible for the colliery who has employed him, the mine inspector is resopnsible for the district he represents. They have not been paid what they should be paid. We have miners by the hundreds who are earning more than the mine inspectors. We have mine foremen who are earning almost double that. They are asking only what, in my opinion, is right and I ask everybody in this House to support the bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

APPROVAL OF RESOLUTION.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, March 16, 1921.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed the following resolution of the Senate and House of Representatives recalling from the Governor House Bill No. 255, File Folio 801, entitled:

"Resolved (if the Senate Concur), That House Bill No. 255, File Folio 801, entitled 'An act to amend section two of article one, chapter five, of an act approved the fourteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws, three hundred and twelve) entitled "An act providing a system of government for boroughs and revising, amending and consolidating the law relating to boroughs" be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.'

Acordingly, the original bill is herewith returned.

WM. C. SPROUL.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 255.

Mr. STARK. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed finally be reconsidered.

Mr. QUIGLEY. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. STARK. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. QUIGLEY. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. STARK. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 1 by striking out the word "three" and the figures "$300" in line 6, page 2, and inserting in place thereof the word "five" and the figures "$500".

Further amend Section 1 by adding to line 15, after the word "thereof" the following:

In case of an emergency so declared by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of all the members of said council or a majority of council, plus one, when the number composing such council is less than nine the notice shall be published at least one week prior to the time fixed therein for opening bids.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 778 (Senate Bill No. 155), entitled:

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 260.

Mr. STEWART. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 260, entitled:

An Act fixing the salary of the jury commissioners of the counties of the third class, was defeated on final passage be reconsidered.

Mr. SWEITZER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. STEWART. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 250 be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary Special for the purpose of amendment.

Mr. SWEITZER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

MOTION TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF HOUSE BILL NO. 23.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation be discharged from further consideration of House Bill No. 23, entitled:

An Act to regulate the practice of chiropractic and to create a Board of Chiropractic Examiners for the examination and licensing of chiropractors defining the powers and duties of said board and providing a penalty for violations of this act, and the chairman be directed to report it out.

Mr. J. J. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I trust that the membership of this House will in no way lend its assistance in the passage of this motion. This bill is House Bill No. 23, better known as the Chiropractic Examining Board Bill. This bill, my friends, has been referred to the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation. Every courtesy known to legislative practice has been extended to the sponsor of this bill and to those that are friendly to its enactment. I further trust that no man will in any way take my defense to be on account of being a physician and as having any personal attitude toward the bill. If I may have your kind consideration, I will recite to you the history of this bill.

This bill as all other bills introduced was referred to the proper committee. In turn the committee asked the sponsor if he would not wait until a similar bill of a like character would be introduced by the Educational Department by Mr. Finnegan to which he agreed. Further a public hearing was agreed upon by the membership of this committee and a hearing was held. At this hearing it developed that a proposition was made to the sponsor of the bill that a sub-committee be appointed to meet the various people interested for or against it and to ascertain if this bill could not be properly put into shape and that all factions would agree. Now my friends the sub-committee have met today and I have informed Mr. Dunn through one of his friends that the general committee would hear the report of the sub-committee next Tuesday immediately after adjournment. I do not know of any fairer or more courteous treatment that could be extended to the man who may be sponsor for a bill.

Every committee has the right and prerogative to thoroughly analyze and thoroughly discuss the motives and the features of a bill, and that is only what the Public Health and Sanitation Committee has done. As chairman of that committee, Mr. Speaker, and gentlemen of the House, I trust that you will not destroy the principles of honesty and integrity that the Speaker used in the appointment of the personnel of that committee, and that it may be sustained in its action. Mr. Dunn has stated before the committee that the common talk in the city of Philadelphia is that the bill will never come out of the committee. That gentlemen, I assure you, does not radiate from any talk or conversation by me or any member of that committee. If it is a fact that such talk is upon the streets of Philadelphia then it originates only from someone who might possibly be antagonistic to it, but so far as coming from the committee or me is concerned it is absolutely without any ground or foundation. Now I remember only a few weeks ago, if my memory serves me correctly, that Mr. Dunn plead on the floor of this House to sustain the integrity of the Committee on Appropriations, its chairman and its personnel, and that is all I am asking you to do as members of this House, that is, sustain the action of this committee up to this time. I can assure you that proper action on this bill at next Tuesday's meeting will absolutely and positively be taken and then the committee may act and report this bill either as amended or as it is now presented, report it affirmatively or report it with a negative recommendation. I have been in this House for ten years and I have never to my knowledge voted to take away or destroy that dignity, that trust and confidence that is placed in the action of a committee, unless it might have been reported out with a negative recommendation and then supported the bill to place it on the calendar notwithstanding the recommendation of the committee. I would find no fault with the gentleman if he would do that, but I do find fault with him in taking the action he has taken at this particular time. Only today he sat as a member of that sub-committee, my friends, and that bill is now in the hands of the chairman of that sub-committee, and after sitting down with that committee and trying to reason as to best judgment he came up to this House and asked that the committee be discharged from further consideration of the bill for no other purpose than possibly to show that notwithstanding his membership on that committee he could override its judgment, its wishes and its practice. Now my friends I hope and trust that you gentlemen will in no way destroy the functions of that committee because I have made it plain to you and I have assured you that some action will be taken by this committee next Tuesday and that the bill will be reported out either affirmatively or negatively as the judgment of that committee may be, and I shall hope that Mr. Dunn will recede and withdraw this motion.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Steedle, permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. STEEDLE. With pleasure, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Allegheny, the chairman of this committee, whether he will agree on next Tuesday to have this bill reported out to this House, so that it can be discussed on the floor of the House?

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Philadelphia, I would say that I cannot answer for twenty-five members of that committee, but I can answer for one, myself, and I will say this to him in answer to this question, that I will be governed by the action of that committee, whether it be reported out affirmatively or with a negative recommendation. I cannot do anything any fairer than that, but I can assure him that action will be taken on this bill in some way or another at that time.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, this bill, known as the chiropractic bill, was introduced into this House on the twenty-fifth day of January. Immediately it was reported to the Health and Sanitation Committee. On the following Tuesday after January 23rd, a meeting of this committee was held, and all bills that were before it at that time were reported out except bill No. 23. At the request of the chairman of that committee, when he asked me to extend to him the courtesy of permitting the bill to lie in committee until the so-called Dr. Finegan bill came up, I cheerfully granted him that courtesy as a member of that committee, and the bill lay there in the committee. At the next meeting of that committee all bills were taken up and considered and reported out except this one. I requested the chairman of the committee whether it were not possible to report my bill out so that I could on second reading insert certain qualifications that Dr. Baldi wished to be inserted in the bill, namely, the preliminary educational part of it. I agreed to his request. He again came to me and said: "I have been requested to have a public hearing on this bill. Will you grant me the honor and the favor of deferring this until after the public hearing?" I cheerfully granted him that courtesy. The public hearing came off. The chairman of that committee fixed the time, for a very important meeting like this, at one hour. These people whom I represent came from all over this great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to that hearing, bringing to that committee practical demonstrations of what they could do in their work, when the medical profession declared these people to be incurable. Dozens of them were there, but our time was limited to one hour—five minutes to each speaker—and only two of the people came there to that meeting were permitted to go before that meeting and tell what cured them. One was a blind man who for fifteen years had never seen.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. In what respect does the gentleman raise his point of order?

Mr. STEEDLE. That the gentleman has divulged to the House the conduct or the action of the committee that took place in the committee room.

The SPEAKER. The Chair ruled, in the last session of the Legislature, that it is out of order to divulge the proceedings that take place within the doors of the Committee room, on the floor of the House, and the Chair will have to sustain the point of order, to the extent that the gentleman makes it in that respect, at this time.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, what I am reciting at the present time occurred at a public hearing.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will rule that whatever occurs before a committee in a public hearing is proper to be considered on the floor of the House.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I again rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, my point of order is that he is not only talking about the public hearing but also is talking about what has happened in committee meetings.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia will not state what happened in committee meetings, but will try to confine himself to what happened at the public hearing.

Mr. DUNN. I will do so, Mr. Speaker. Speaking now of the two people that we were permitted to place before the committee in the public hearing, as a demonstration of the work that these worthy practitioners are doing, I have here in my hand a petition from a man who was blind for fifteen years. He had spent forty-five hundred dollars being treated by eighteen professors and oculists, who treated his eyes. This petition contains the affidavit of each one of them, which were received from the Pension Bureau at Washington, where they were sworn to, that this man was qualified for a pension, that he would never see again,—and we had that man before the committee. He stated that after fifteen years he began to take these treatments under a chiropractor, and inside of a year his sight was brought back. He appeared before that committee telling of the wonderful cure that had come to him in giving back to him his sight. He said that he took up the study of chirocpactic, and today he is practicing in it, almost free of charge, for the unfortunate people, when the medical profession today acknowledges that they are incurable. Another gentleman from Harrisburg, a neighbor of our Lieutenant Governor—and the Lieutenant Governor will testify to the truth of it,—in going down the steps one night a burglar struck him across the eyes and the nose, the blow taking away his sense of hearing and his eyesight, and paralyzing him. He went all over this entire country, doctoring with specialists, trying to receive some treatment by which he might be able to walk, if not see. That man was there to testify before the committee that his sense of hearing had come back, his eyesight had come back, and he sat there before that committee, gazing at them as well as probably you or I or some of the others could do. One hour was permitted for me to give an exhibition of the most wonderful cures that ever had been placed before mankind or humanity. The rest who came there, living examples of what can be done by this chiropractic treatment, were not permitted to come before the committee, because the chairman of the committee saw the fruits and the results of these practitioners who are pleading to us for protection. Dr. Martin was there, and he said that he had nothing against this bill, that he was neither for it nor against it.

Dr. Baldi said, "All that was required is a preliminary qualification in order to meet the necessary education to practice this cult." He suggested that to me as a member of that committee and he said, further, "You get a committee together and meet me in my office and we will whip this bill into shape so that it will be satisfactory to the people of this Commonwealth. I accepted his invitation and on the following Friday, when I arrived home, I had an invitation from Dr. Baldi to bring some of my clients to him on the following Sunday.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny will state his point of order.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, you have ruled that there is no objection to the gentleman from Philadelphia speaking in reference to what occurred at a public hearing, but I do not think that ruling permits him to talk about any conversation or business that took place outside other than that which transpired at the public hearing.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman's point of order is well taken. The gentleman from Philadelphia will confine himself in his argument in regard to what took place at the public hearing.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I want to bring out what occurred in Dr. Baldi's office. I want to bring out what the chairman of the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation said to me on the floor of this House at my desk.

The SPEAKER. The Chair rules that is proper. The gentleman from Philadelphia will proceed.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, when I received this letter—

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. STEEDLE. I again rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. STEEDLE. My point of order is, that the gentleman from Philadelphia confine his argument to what took place at the public hearing and not to any conversation outside of that.

The SPEAKER. The Chair cannot rule that the speaker confine himself to extremely narrow limits. The Chair will ask the gentleman from Philadelphia that he confine himself as nearly as possible to the ruling.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, on this invitation from Dr. Baldi I called up the president of this Board, informing him that Dr. Baldi wanted to meet some of those clients for consultation in order to help to whip the bill into shape so that we might have some concrete proposition to bring before the supposed sub-committee. The chairman of the State committee of this association called up Dr. Baldi and made the arrangement on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and informed me that he had arranged with Dr. Stuart and Dr. Fisher, one a doctor of medicine and one licensed to practice this cult, by the board, and both of these people are entitled to practice, notwithstanding that they have no law in this State to govern them. I called there and I heard the conversation between the two of them that they were going to try to bring this bill into shape. On the following day the chairman of the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation came to my desk and said, "I understood that you have broken all the rules of courtesy by deliberately going over a sub-committee down there with your friends and with Dr. Baldi, in Philadelphia." I said, "That is not so." He said, "You have done that and now the knives are out." He said that on the floor of this House at my desk. The committee held a meeting and Dr. Baldi submitted some amendments to the sub-committee, agreeably to its association. I have heard two weeks ago in Philadelphia, possibly by the errand boy of the State Medical Association, having said that to one of my friends, "This bill will never come out of committee." said, "As long as we have two hundred and four members iIn this House who are to pass judgment for or against legislation that is good for this Commonwealth, we will not submit to it." have the confidence and know that these people are doing honest and careful work in this cult and saving lives when the medical profession have failed, and we are going to inform the members of this House what the bill stands for and they will have the power to judge. If in their minds it is not worthy of recognition in the State of Pennsylvania, let them decide, but let them be fair and honest. We have nothing to hide; we are only here, not to open the door by legislation to do anything that is objectionable, but to prevent so-called "quacks" from coming into this work. Seventeen states surrounding us have this law on their statute books today. Iowa, only two weeks ago, passed a chiropractic law and the Governor signed it; Oklahoma passed such a law and the governor signed it, and now out of these seventeen states those who have not the right to practice, who probably have had their instruction under correspondence schools, heretofore, are coming here to Pennsylvania to practice the cult and many of them are not qualified. This proposed law is only intended to regulate the practice of the cult, and they are not to do anything but practice the cult and do not practice medicine or surgery. However we cannot put them out of business. But if you will give us a law with an honest regulation of their profession, we can put those who are not qualified out of it and we can regulate the practice and we can revoke licenses and put them out of business. It is for humanity's sake that we are doing this. I have on my desk letters from the Temple University of Philadelphia stating that the medical board declared that they must take the prescribed course or when their term is out they must close the Temple school; the Temple University School, where poor boys have had the opportunity to receive a proper education. The medical board has made qualifications on that higher standard which will require them now to spend eleven years in educational work before a boy can receive a diploma. That is the high standard which they have placed on the institutions in our State. The medical societies centered in the city of Chicago decide that a boy must spend eleven yeras in college, together with a preliminary education before he can get a diploma. That is not going to do your country sections any good. Many of your physicians know that there are not a sufficient number of medical men in the country districts to properly take care of the sick, and if you are going to require people in this country to attend college and prepare for the medical profession for a period of eleven years, it will not be of any benefit, especially in your country towns. I only ask for justice, and that this bill go to the floor of the House and have an opportunity to be explained. When the chairman of the Committee on Health and Sanitation says, "Our knives are open to the hilt and that this bill will never be reported out," then I say to you, members of this House, that you have something to say. I served warning on him yesterday in asking whether he would permit the bill to come out, and he answered, "I don't know about that." Then I said to him, "I will serve notice on you, then, that I believe that I can get a certain number of the members of this House to do justice." They say under this requirement, that fully fifty per cent. of the medical profession would not be qualified today to act as doctors of this Commonwealth, an dif they were asked to pass this examination prescribed by the Chicago Medical Association, ninety per cent. could not take that medical examination today. I ask for fairness and that this bill come before this body.

In conclusion, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, the Chairman of the Committee on Health and Sanitation.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I have just been informed that the gentleman from Allegheny says, if we will withdraw the motion that he will report the bill out next week. Will you agree to that?

Mr. STEEDLE. I will agree to do that.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I withdraw my motion.

Mr. J. J. MILLER. Mr. Speaker,I withdarw my second.

Mr. GREENE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Steedle.

The SPEAKER. The motion having been withdrawn, there is nothing before the House.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVELEGE.

Mr. GREEN. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a question of Personal privelige.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question.

Mr. GREEN. Being a new member, Mr. Speaker and members, I would like to find out if possible how it is that Mr. Steedle a few moments ago said he could not speak for the committee and now he does speak for it.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will state that the proper time to make inquiry concerning this bill is when the bill is before the House. The motion has been withdrawn and the bill is not before the House and the Chair rules that the question propounded by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Green, is out of order at this time.

Legislative Journal.

Session 1921 — 124th of the General Assembly

Vol. 6. HARRISBURG, PA., THURSDAY, MARCH 17, 1921. No. 30.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

THURSDAY, March 17, 1921.

The House met at 11 o'clock A. M.
The SPEAKER (Robert S. Spangler) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

Almighty God, giver of all that is good and true, we acknowledge unto Thee that our lines have fallen unto us in a goodly place, and that Thou hast made this State enviable among all those in our great country; and we know that to-day we are servitors to every continent and every clime and have put all people under tribute to our wares and our works. But we beseech Thee that more than this may be ours—that we shall not become selfish and sodden because of the things of earth.

Raise Thou up, therefore, leaders among us, that a good cause shall never lack for defense and that there shall never be at any time men who shall be afraid to speak against the wrong and the evil. And so we ask Thee that Thou wilt not only make us leaders in things temporal, but also in things mental and spiritual, so that this State may take its proper place in the vanguard of civilization and the uplift of mankind. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings.

fair consideration when the person making the conveyance or entering into the obligation intends or believes that he will incur debts beyond his ability to pay as they mature is fraudulent as to both present and future creditors

Section 7 (Conveyance made with intent to defraud) Every conveyance made and every obligation incurred with actual intent as distinguished from intent presumed in law to hinder delay or defraud either present or future creditors is fraudulent as to both present and future creditors

Section 8 (Conveyance of Partnership Property) Every conveyance of partnership property and every partnership obligation incurred when the partnership is or will be thereby rendered insolvent is fraudulent as to partnership creditors if the conveyance is made or obligation is incurred

(a) To a partner whether with or without a promise by him to pay partnership debts or

(b) To a person not a partner without fair consideration to the partnership as distinguished from consideration to the individual partners

Section 9 (Rights of creditors whose claims have matured) (1) Where a conveyance or obligation is fraudulent as to a creditor such creditor when his claim has matured may as against any person except a purchaser for fair consideration without knowledge of the fraud at the time of the purchase or one who has derived title immediately or mediately from such a purchaser

(a) Have the conveyance set aside or obligation annulled to the extent necessary to satisfy his claim or

(b) Disregard the conveyance and attach or levy execution upon the property conveyed

(2) A purchaser who without actual fraudulent intent has given less than a fair consideration for the conveyance or obligation may retain the property or obligation as security for repayment

(3) Knowledge that a conveyance has been made as a gift or for nominal consideration shall not by itself be deemed to be knowledge that the conveyance was a fraud on any creditor of the grantor or impose any duty on the person purchasing the property from the grantee to make inquiry as to whether such conveyance was or was not a fraud on any such creditor

Section 10 (Rights of creditors whose claims have not matured) Where a conveyance made or obligation incurred is fraudulent as to a creditor whose claim has not matured he may proceed in a court of competent jurisdiction against any person against whom he could have proceeded had his claim matured and the court may

(a) Restrain the defendant from disposing of his property

(b) Appoint a receiver to take charge of the property

(c) Set aside the conveyance or annul the obligation or

(d) Make any order which the circumstances of the case may require

Section 11 (Cases not provided for in act) In any case not provided for in this act the rules of law and equity including the law merchant and in particular the rules relating to the law of principal and agent and the effect of fraud misrepresentation duress or coercion mistake bankruptcy or other invalidating cause shall govern

Section 12 (Construction of Act) This act shall be so interpreted and construed as to effectuate its general purposes to make uniform the law of those states which enact it

Section 13 (Name of Act) This act may be cited as the uniform Fraudulent Conveyance Act

Section 14 (Inconsistent Legislation Repealed) All acts or parts of acts inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed but nothing herein shall be deemed to modify or repeal the act approved the twenty-eight day of March one thousand nine hundred and five (Pamphlet Laws 62) entitled "An act relative to the sale in bulk of the whole or a large part of a stock of merchandise and fixtures or merchandise or fixtures not in the ordinary course of business providing certain requirements therefor imposing certain duties upon the seller and making their violation a misdemeanor"

HOUSE BILL NO. 269 MADE A SPECIAL ORDER.

Mr. ASBURY. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 269, file folio 1751, be made a special order of business for Tuesday, March 29, 1921, at 11.30 o'clock A. M.

Mr. STEVENS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. MARTIN. It was our understanding, Mr. Speaker, that the Chairman of the Law and Order Committee was to have House Bill No. 480 made a special order for next Tuesday.

Mr. ASBURY. I desire to say that in deference to the Law and Order Committee and the supporters of the Martin Bill, we have postponed our bill until the 29th, one week later.

The SPEAKER. This special order calls for Tuesday week, not next Tuesday.

Mr. MARTIN. One week later—that is satisfactory.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.
